NAVAL INVESTIGATION.

At the naval investigation to-night, Ex-Secretary Welles testified as to contracts of the Secors while he was Secretary. He did not recollect the dates, but they were extended from time to time. Admiral Gregory's board passed upon claims for alterations. The contract price for building three ironclads was $1,300,000. The Secors were allowed between $500,000 and $600,000 additional. The Ringold board completed the scrutiny of the Secor claims after the death of Gregory. The Secors had claims for extra work, which the Naval Department could not allow. An appeal was made to Congress by the Secors, and others, which resulted in the appointment of the Selfridge board, who made a report on the claims amounting to $2,000,000. The Secretary believed that no action was taken on this report, but a law was passed authorizing the Secretary of the Navy to appoint a board to examine the claims and report in detail. The Secretary appointed a board, of which Marchand was President. The the board took up claims and made a report, allowing $300,000. After the passage of an act for the settlement of the Secor and other claims, application was made to witness to reopen them; but this he considered he had no right to do, as the claims had passed from the control of the department, Congress having disposed of them. He regarded the Secor claim as finally paid, so far as the Navy Department was concerned. Witness recollected the contract with Paul L. Forbes, who made an utter failure in building engines for the Idaho and Algonquin. The Naval Department refused to pay the bill, whereupon the contractor went to Congress and received more than he ought to have received; namely, $500,000.

During the proceedings, Blair, the Chairman of the committee, who had just returned from Michigan, resumed his seat.

(By Secretary Robeson)—The Forbes claim he knew was not paid by the department under his administration. He did not examine the bills of the Secors in detail. The Ringold Board had all the ironclads under consideration. He thought he paid all claims allowed by the Board, unless exceptions were taken to some portions. He could not say that the Mahopac or Manhattan or Tecumseh was before the Board, and whether the Board reported on these vessels. He did not suppose the Secors had any claims to consider.

Secretary Robeson—Is there any record showing that this account was closed? Answer—I cannot tell; but I know that I passed on the claims, as I thought, and adjusted and corrected them. I do not know on what grounds the second claims were reopened and paid. I do not know what items they were, but they were classed, as I had supposed.

Secretary Robeson—You have said that several times. Witness—I will say so again, if the question is asked.

In reply to a question by Robeson, witness said he wrote no letter to Charles A. Dana, that appeared in the Sun. Dana wrote to him, enclosing a slip from his newspaper, and asking him whether he knew anything relating to the subjects therein contained. Witness replied to Dana that he had heard some of them. He denied the right of any one to call on him for his private correspondence, but would say that Dana afterward wrote to him to know whether there was a written contract for the Ames gun, to which he replied that he could not recollect, but his impression was that there was no such contract. There were in that newspaper article various charges against the Navy Department. There was something about bricks being sent to California, but he could not recollect the others. The article was shown to witness. It was dated February 26. He said that it was similar to the one he had received from Mr. Dana.

By Secretary Robeson—Did you write back to Dana, saying the charges were substantially true? Answer—I wrote to him that I had heard of some of these things, but not of the others. I do not think I made use of the expression that they were substantially true.

Question—Did you make a suggestion that the payment of the Secor claim was a New Year's present, because it was made on that day? Answer—I heard it was insisted that the requisition should be issued on the 31st of December, but this could not be done, the hour being late and the force having left the bureau. It was however, issued the next day, January 1st.

Question—Did you suggest in that letter to Dana that the Secretary of the Navy, or anybody else received New Year's presents out of the money? Answer—I did not say that the Secretary received any part of the $93,000.

Question—Did you suggest that anybody did? Answer—I stated a part of what I heard, but I mentioned nobody's name.

Witness was interrogated at length by several members of the committee regarding the payment of claims.

Mr. Peters asked witness whether he would not consider it proper to pay the Secors the claim of $93,000, they having performed the work for the Navy Department, but had not received a cent therefor. Witness replid that as Congress had passed on the Secor claims, and made an appropriation for their settlement in full, nothing could have induced him to reopen the case.

Adjourned until Monday evening.

WASHINGTON, April 14, 1872.

DEMOCRATS IN CONSULTATION.

The Democratic members of Congress are consulting among themselves regarding their political course, in view of the Cincinnati Convention. Some of them freely express their willingness to vote for the nominee of that Convention, provided the demonstration there be of such a character that they can endorse it. They say they want only the enunciation of a few general principles. Some of the anti-administration Republicans have been privately exchanging views with them, in order to arrange a basis of coal and iron. It is generally agreed, however, by the Democrats, that their course will be governed by the National Democratic Convention, whether it shall agree to support the Cincinnati nominee or make a nomination of its own.

TARIFF AND REVENUE.

The Committee on Ways and Means were a long time in session yesterday on the subject of tariff and internal revenue, and will resume consideration of the subject to-morrow morning, hoping to perfect the measures in time to be adopted during the afternoon. The protectionists on the committee wanted the internal revenue to be the first reported to the House and voted on before considering the tariff, so as to revive the tobacco and other domestic interests, and in order that they might know the extent of the reduction of the revenue made under that bill, as a guide in modifying the tariff, but they were out-voted by the Committee. In consequence of this, Representative Burchard, of the majority, will report the two measures, the tariff taking precedence. Instead of tea and coffee being first on the list, they are, it is said, among the last, which will exclude, at the commencement of the consideration of the bill, a test on these two articles. It is probable that at some stage of the proceedings a substitute will be offered for the bill of the committee, leaving the House to select between the two propositions.

MORSE MEMORIAL SERVICES.

Preparations for the memorial services in honor of the late Professor Morse are completed. The speakers are Senator Patterson and Representatives Fernando Wood, Garfield, Cox, Voorhees and Banks. The President and Vice President, Judges of Courts, and other prominent officials, have been invited. The Governors of States who cannot be present in person, have designated proxies to act as Vice Presidents of the meeting. Similar meetings will be held on Tuesday evening in several cities.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.

An area of low barometer is advancing over Nebraska and Dakota, and will probably move over southern Lake Michigan on Monday, with a diminishing pressure throughout the Mississippi valley.

COMPTROLLER OF CURRENCY.

It is thought that the President will this week nominate a Comptroller of the Currency to supply the present vacancy.

DANISH CONSUL FOR MINNESOTA.

The President has recognized P. M. Tuiek as Vice Consul of Denmark in and for the State of Minnesota.

THE PRESIDENT RECOVERED.

The President has improved in health, and to-day attended services at the Metropolitan church.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, April 11, 1872.

COTTON TAX.

As but few persons understand the provisions and objects of the bill introduced into Congress proposing to refund the cotton tax, I have obtained a copy of the bill and given the same a careful consideration.

By this bill a commission is created with power to demand all the books, papers, receipts, &c., in the hands of any present or former agent of the Government, and also to summon witnesses, administer oaths, &c. These provisions are intended to enable the commission to inform themselves as to who paid the taxes—when, where, and how,—and to force officials to furnish that evidence. Having fully and entirely procured all the evidence possible, they are directed to award the same to the parties who are justly entitled to it.

Now, as every one knows that this tax was paid exclusively by the people of the South, and mainly by the planters and freedmen, it is perfectly obvious that these provisions were intended to protect that class, and to lay a foundation for the future prosperity and happiness of the Southern people, without regard to color, and in the interest of the entire country. The people of the South have not had their due share of banking capital, for the want of which every interest is languishing. If Congress passes this bill, the tax claims are to be paid in bonds. In other words this bill gives the needy people of the South a sum equal to the amount proposed to be refunded as banking capital, which they have not got and which they sorely need.

POLITICAL MOVEMENTS.

Yesterday was a busy day among the politicians. The Republican State Conventions of Massachusetts and Pennsylvania were in session, and the Colored Men's National Convention met at New Orleans. In the two States mentioned delegates to the National Republican Convention were chosen, and the renomination of General Grant favored. General John H. Hartranft, who won a memorable reputation as a soldier during the war, and for several years past has been Auditor General of the State, was nominated for Governor of Pennsylvania. The Kansas Liberals met and adopted a series of resolutions setting forth their views of the issues for the coming campaign.

NAVY DEPARTMENT ACCOUNTS.

Yesterday in the House something of a damper on investigation was received in answer to Mr. Beck's buncombe resolution, calling for an account of the proceeds of sales of naval property, &c. The denouement of this political effort is a commentary on the folly of universal investigation with which partizans employ the time and money of the people preceding a presidential election.

The Secretary transmitted a statement, with bureau reports in detail, summing up as follows: The balance to the credit of the Department on July 1st, 1865, was $22,408,990 65, to which sum was added the appropriation for the fiscal years 1865-66, which was $119,882,928 78. Total available for the year $142,391,919. But of this sum only $43,324,527 42 was expended, and out of the balance remaining and the subsequent balance $74,027,765 45 has been converted into treasury. The sales of property amounting to $12,923,419, out of which sum $1,823,222 was used for repairs, &c. So that it appears that out of the appropriations over $74,000,000 has been refunded, and out of the proceeds of sales of arms a sum of over $11,000,000 has been refunded. The communication was referred to the Committee on Naval Affairs.

LIBERAL DILEMMA.

The New York Times pushes the Liberals into a very tight place when it says:

"Two facts are obvious with reference to the management. One that it depends absolutely for its success on a combination with the Democrats; and the other that such a combination is necessarily fatal to any reforms which its authors may seek."

Another element of disintegration and disappointment at the first gathering of the heterogeneous clans consists in the fact just fairly announced by Father Horace, that first, the Liberal Republicans are to manage the convention; and second, that he will not stay with it if protection is not one of the planks of the platform. What will be left for the States' Rights Free Traders, it is very hard to discern, and to suppose that Democrats will fall into this line, without division, is to reform human nature beyond all bounds that have ever yet been discovered in history. There is a grand reckoning without their host by these Cincinnati advocates of an immediate millenium.

INDIAN REPORTS.

Very lengthy dispatches on the subject of Indian affairs are just received at the Interior Department from the vicinity of Fort Larmie. They contain indications of a restless and dissatisfied spirit on the part of the young men of the tribes, and Red Cloud is reported to have been insolent and disposed to be troublesome.

LOCAL ITEMS.

The real estate market is active, notwithstanding the efforts of the injunctionist to destroy confidence in the healthy and permanent progress of our city. Prices were never firmer nor money more abundant than at present.

The Grand Jury has found a true bill against Marcus P. Norton, a patent attorney of this city, charging him with forgery. There is another charge pending against him.

Bids were opened yesterday for constructing six miles of the track of the new Union Street Railway in this city. AGATE.

POLITICAL.

Colored Men's National Convention.

NEW ORLEANS, April 13.—Fred Douglass arrived last night. He presided to-day, and upon taking the chair, he made a speech, in which he said: "When the war began, we heard there was a white man's government and a white man's war. No negro should have a hand in it. Abraham Lincoln did not at first believe in us, but at last he was with us. His object was to save the Union, and when the fight began to be severe, he learned wisdom. Not until armies were swept away, and not until they saw the star spangled banner trampled in the dust and blood by the victorious rebels, did they call on us. Thus the preservation of the Union was through us in part. I don't say we saved the Republic, but we had a hand in it, and so deserve our credit. It is stated that the party led by Trumbull and Schurz favored State rights. In that party he had no confidence; but the Republican party must come up higher. General Grant is an honorable man, one for who I expect to vote. [Cheers.] Yet the Republican party has other leaders besides General Grant. [Enthusiastic applause.] There is now a man at Washington who represents the future, is a majority in himself, a man at whose feet Grant learns wisdom. That man is Charles Sumner. [Applause.] I know them both. They are great men, but Sumner is steady. He is no flickering light. For twenty-five years he has worked for the Republican party. I hope I may cease forever if I cease to give all honor to Charles Sumner."

On motion, the house gave three cheers for Charles Sumner, and Mr. Douglass concluded amidst applause.

A resolution was reported by a committee to demand the enforcement of the laws on the subject of civil rights. They demand equality in public conveyances, hotels, etc. Referred back to the committee, and made the special order of the day for Monday.

PHILADELPHIA.

Gettysburg Battle-Field.

PHILADELPHIA, April 13.—The Gettysburg Battle-Field Memorial Association has decided to proceed immediately to indicate the positions on the field occupied by New York and Minnesota troops during the battle to the extent of the appropriations made by the Legislatures of these States. Proposals will be immediately invited to erect granite obelisks, which are to bear the indications and inscriptions. The latter are to be supervised by committees of New York and Minnesota military officers and citizens. The New York appropriation is nearly large enough to complete the indications of the positions occupied and important parts performed by New York soldiers and officers. The indications of positions occupied by troops of other States will will be commenced as soon as the requisite appropriations are made by the different Legislatures.

—Haytien advices report the arrest and imprisonment of the American Consul at Port au Prince, because of his having given protection to Gen. Batellia, the insurrectionary leader, who escaped from the custody of a guard and sought refuge in the Consul's office, while on his way to be imprisoned. The Consul has conferred with Minister Bassett on the subject, who, it is understood, will apply to the Haytien Government for redress.

—Clinton, the county seat of Hickman county, Ky., has been the scene of considerable excitement for the last few days. Two of four men, implicated in the late atrocious outrage upon a lady and daughter, near Clinton, were arrested, and while their trial was progressing, repeated attempts were made by a mob to seize and lynch them. The mob attacked the guards on Thursday night. Some thirty shots were interchanged, resulting in the repulse of the former without serious injury to either side. At last accounts the mob had avowed their determination to get possession of the prisoners or burn the village.

ST. LOUIS.

Coroner's Investigation into the Oceanus Disaster—Verdict Agreed on in the Fore Murder Case—Bishop Consecrated.

ST. LOUIS, April 13.—The Coroner held an inquest to-day on the bodies of the victims of the Oceanus disaster, brought here by the steamer Belle St. Louis. George K. Kefgly, first engineer, testified that the Oceanus was inspected last December at New Orleans, and was found fully up to the requirements of the law. The boilers rate at one hundred and twenty-five pounds of steam, and the inspector set the valves at that figure and locked them. The explosion occurred while crossing the river from the Missouri shore; struck a bar when in the middle of the river; had been on watch about fifteen minutes. During that time he examined the water in the boilers and found the water three in the larboard, two in the starboard, and two in the middle boiler. The reason there was more water in the larboard than in the other boilers was because both listed, caused by making a turn; thinks the middle exploded first; thought the mud-drum had been struck by a snag, but now thinks the mud-drum or something in connection with the pipe gave way in consequence of the boat striking the bar, and that the explosion resulted therefrom; was carrying about one hundred and twenty pounds of steam when the explosion occurred; the boiler and mud-drum were blown out at Cairo; this is done at every change of watches; the boilers were thoroughly cleaned out at Shreveport, and no defect was discovered.

A VERDICT AGREED ON IN THE FORE MURDER CASE.

ST. LOUIS, April 14.—The jury in the Fore murder case agreed on a verdict at half-past one o'clock this morning. The court having adjourned and all the officers having gone home, Judge Primm, who was called from bed, ordered the jury to bring in a sealed verdict to-morrow morning. It has been freely stated that the verdict is for acquittal, but nothing definite is known.

BISHOP CONSECRATED.

Rev. Father P. J. Ryan was to-day consecrated Bishop of Trichomia and coadjutor of Archbishop Kenrick of this diocese, at St. John's Catholic Church. The church was elaborately decorated and densely crowded with spectators. The ceremonies, which were very impressive and quite lengthy, were performed by Archbishop Kenrick, assisted by Archbishop Lynch, of Toronto, Bishop Foley, of Chicago, Feehan, of Nashville, Grace, of St. Paul, Meigs, of Leavenworth, Heissi, of La Crosse, Hogan of St. Joseph, Baltis, of Alton, Ryan, of Buffalo, McCluskey, of Louisville, and Hennessy, of Dubuque.

TIFFIN.

Destructive Fire.

TIFFIN, O., April 13.—A fire broke out in McNeal's store block in the western part of the town this afternoon at 2:45, and the building, which was a large two-story frame, was soon in flames. A heavy gale, blowing from the southwest, gave rise to serious apprehensions for the safety of the entire city. The wind carried burning brands to a great distance, and within thirty minutes houses at least half a mile away from where the fire originated were in flames. The progress of the fire was so rapid that it was difficult to remove furniture or other effects from its path. Within two hours the devastation was complete. Over sixty buildings were totally destroyed.

COLUMBUS.

Legislative Proceedings.

COLUMBUS, April 14.—In the Senate yesterday the following bills were passed: The Senate bill to provide for the acknowledgment of instruments of writing before a Vice Consul of the United States; House bills to authorize stockholders of joint stock and other companies to fix the number of their boards of directors; to authorize county commissioners to establish corners of townships.

In the House a resolution was adopted to appoint a committee to inquire whether there is any practical means for the destruction of the Colorado potato bug.

ALBANY.

Change in New York City Charter.

ALBANY, April 13.—It is reported that an effort is being made to strike out of the New York charter the names of Green and Van Nort as Comptroller and Commissioner of Public Works, and give to Judges Curtis and Sedgwick, of the Supreme Court, the power to appoint the Commissioners of Public Safety, which comprise the Police, Fire and Health Departments. This, it is said, will bring up the question as to who shall have control, the Conkling or Fenton wing of the Republican party. A severe struggle will follow.

RAILROADS.

Breach of Faith by B. & M.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa, April 13.—It is reported and generally believed in railroad circles here that the B. & M. R. R. has violated its compact with the other Iowa roads by giving through tickets and checking baggage through to Omaha for the U. P. R. R., or virtually transferring with the Union Pacific in Omaha. This breach of faith on the part of the B. & M. is severely criticized.

The Cuban War.

A letter from Madrid says: "I receive sad news from Havana." "Don't for a moment suppose," writes the correspondent, "that the insurrection is at an end. The Captain-General, following the example of his predecessors, has informed the authorities here that the rebels will be entirely subdued by the end of April, and the Government has replied that unless this be so, it will be under the necessity of superseding him. So far as slavery is concerned, no change has occurred since the revolution in Spain. It is not two days since a couple of slavers landed their living freight near Matanzas. It is getting near five years since this revolution began. It started in 1868, with the issue of a document called the "Junta of the Laborers," which demanded a Government for and by the country, free from an army of parasites and soldiers that only serves to consume and oppress it. The Captain-General responded by what was intended for a pacifying address:

"Cubans and Spaniards! Speaking in the name of our mother, Spain, I adjure you to forget the past, hope for the future, and establish union and fraternity."

However, these fine Spanish words entirely failed to butter the Cuban parsnips, and the popular party made no response to them. Early in 1869, reinforcements arrived from Spain. In February the freedom of the press was abolished, and that of military commission established. So the struggle has continued, with varying vigor and success in the case of both parties. It is high time that this disastrous state of things should end, and if the Government of Spain to-day be really the liberal constitutional and progressive establishment which it pretends to be, its members should know how to bring this confusion to an end.

The Alabama Question.

The April number of Blackwood's Magazine has a review of the position of the Gladstone Ministry in which the dispute arising out of the Washington Treaty figures conspicuously. The article, which is of course writen in the interest of the Tory party, makes the following among other remarks on the Treaty of Washington: "Americans may listen to our plea, that the treaty does not secure to us the conditions which we were made to believe that it secured, and that, as now worded, it does not even express what our Commissioners intended, if indeed, the poor creatures were conscious of any intention beyond the drawing up of a paper which they could induce the American Commissioners to sign. Should the Americans do this, and, as a consequence of each nation differing from the other in interpretation of the Treaty, allow the whole agreement to be annulled and another to be framed, then it is highly probable that the second attempt may be successful. We must not of course, conceal from ourselves that there are many courses open to America, by pursuing which she might wound our honor and disastrously embitter the whole contention. Of these the most to be deprecated is one that has been threatened by a portion of the Transatlantic press, viz: To lay the claims as they stand before the arbitrators, leaving it to Great Britain to come into Court or not as she may choose."

Chinese Official News.

An Imperial Chinese edict is noticed in the Pekin Gazette, having for its object an Army Reform. After providing for certain promotions, it announces that Lieutenant Colonel Hwa Feng "is dismissed on account of old age and general infirmity; and that Ting Jen-lin is degraded because of his physical weakness." These are honorable dismissals and degradations; but alas! Capt. Han Hsiencheun, of the Klang-yin battalion, is cashiered "on account of his slowness and stupidity," while Major Wangwen, of the Hung-hu regiment, is dismissed "on account of obstinacy, stupidity, laziness and cupidity." This Major Wang-wen must be a character, and perhaps he ought to have been retained as an ornament of the service. An officer combining the character of the mule, of the jackass and of the sloth; with the eminently human foible of avarice, is what we have never been able to boast of in our own army. We have had each of these virtues separately in individuals, but have we ever had them united in one person?

Slander.

The report of a case, not unlike several which have recently occured in this country, comes to us from England. The Rev. John Goodwin of Morton, near Manchester, was slandered by Mrs. Mary Ann Standishstreet, who charged him with being criminally intimate with herself. Mr. Goodwin, the moment he heard of the stories called upon Mrs. S. for a recantation in writing, and failing to obtain this, he brought an action, and the jury gave him £1,000 damages. Meanwhile, however, the woman and her husband had absconded. Mr. Justice Lush, in summing up, said: "One can hardly conceive anything more diabolical than utterances of this kind against the character of a clergyman; and when they are so utterly unfounded, and are so persistently adhered to, as in this case, it is right the jury should mark their estimate of such conduct by the amount of damages."

SPEAKING about being alive, there is a story of an ox in Wisconsin which survived the longest living burial on record. He had the good fortune, however, to be buried in a haystack, which fell upon him. Nobody knew what had become of the creature until after his mysterious disappearance had lasted over three weeks, when he put out an appearance from the haystack, having eaten his way from the centre to the circumference. There was snow on the ground, which afforded moisture enough to prevent his dying from thirst.

THE GENEVA CONVENTION.

LONDON, April 14.—The London Observer says Lord Tenderdon and Hon. Caleb Cushing will present the counter cases of their respective governments at Geneva to-morrow. The sitting of the Board will be very brief. Cushing, Davis and Evarts, counsel for the American Government, will prolong their stay in Paris until June. They are of the opinion that the Board of Arbitration is bound to adjudicate the Alabama claims after the delivery of the counter cases, even should one of the litigants withdraw.

CANADA.

THE TREATY OF WASHINGTON.

OTTAWA, CANADA, April 13.—In the Dominion Parliament, in reply to a speech last night, Sir Francis Hicks stated that the delay in calling the House together was caused by differences between Great Britain and the United States respecting the treaty of Washington. Two aspects of it had to be considered—the merits of the treaty itself and the responsibility of the Canadian Government. If the Premier had accepted a position on the commission only on condition that he would not be called on to sign the treaty unless it met his own approval, it was not likely he could have been appointed to that position. He contended that it was an honor to Canada to be represented in that commission. It was satisfactory that throughout the whole proceedings there had been perfect unanimity among the members of the Canadian Government. He objected on the ground that the Commissioners were responsible for the treaty. The British Government had admitted that they, and they alone, should be held responsible. The British Parliament and Canadian Government were alone responsible for the treaty. It would be shown that the Canadian Government was justified in all it had done. He was surprised that gentlemen who preceded him should express ignorance of the reasons for the late assembling of the House when there was every reason for the postponement of the meeting of Parliament. Congress had not arrived at a decision on the treaty of Washington when the Imperial Government requested a delay. Surely every one would see how important it was that in a question of such import the Imperial and Canadian Governments should be in perfect accord.

Sir John MacDonald moved the usual formal resolution to appoint a committee to draft a reply to the speech.

Hilton objected to the adoption of the resolution without some explanation from the Government respecting the Washington treaty.

MacDonald declined to discuss the question until the whole matter should come up in due form, when he would then be prepared to discuss the matter to its fullest extent.

The address was carried without a division, and the House adjourned until Tuesday, Monday being a general holiday as a thanksgiving day for the recovery of the Prince of Wales.

STORMY VOYAGE.

HALIFAX, April 13.—A coal vessel arrived here to-day which has been a month out from Arichat, having encountered gales which drove her backwards and forwards over the ocean from Cape Hatteras and Bermuda to beyond New Foundland. Seven men were washed overboard, of whom three were drowned. The crew suffered great privations.

MEXICO.

FIGHTING ON A NEW BASE.

MATAMORAS, April 13.—A special says the revolutionists have started on a new base in the warfare against the Juarist Government. Diaz has abrogated the plan of De La Novia and proclaimed to fight under the Constitution, which, according to his declaration, is to remain intact. The plan of Novia had been an element of discord between the revolutionists and Lerdistas, because it shut out the candidacy of Lerdo de Tajeda from the Presidency in case of the fall of Juarez. The cause of the disagreement between the two parties has now been removed by this act of Diaz. The fight now simply is for the sole object of dethroning Juarez on the ground of illegal tenure of office. The present Constitution is to be left in operation, making Lerdo de Tayedo, at present Chief Justice of the Republic, the successor of Juarez as President of Mexico. It is calculated that the consequence of this step will be that all of the Lerdistas will now join the revolutionists in active hostilities against the Juarez Government.

NEW ALLIANCE.

Trevino has issued a manifesto declaring the new alliance an accomplished fact. He left Camargo yesterday noon with fifteen hundred men and nineteen guns, including three heavy siege guns, and is coming down the river road to attack this city. Another revolutionary force of one thousand men (cavalry) is also moving on the inner road with the same object. The two forces will form a junction near Matamoras in two days, then bear down on the city and begin a regular siege.

REVOLUTIONISTS HALTED.

MATAMORAS, April 14.—The revolutionists appear to have another hitch. Their troops are halted between Reynosa and this city.

TIRED OF WAR.

General Hinigosa, late second in command under Quirrogas, is in Brownsville, and would not return to Quirrogas' command when sent for by a special courier.

St. Clair, representing himself as chief of the Quirrogas artillery, also reached Brownsville yesterday.

NUEVA LAERDO REOCCUPIED.

Nueva Laerdo has been reoccupied by the Government forces, and it is rumored that Gen. Septda, the Juarez Governor of Coohuila, has attacked Saltillo, which the revolutionists are hastening to defend.

RUMORED DEATH OF DIAS.

There are rumors that General Diaz is either helplessly ill or dead, and that revolutionists of all shades will unite on Lerda de Tajeda for President.

SPAIN.

CARLIST TROUBLES.

MADRID, April 13.—The troops in Catalonia are in close pursuit of the Carlists, who have appeared in that province. The general tenor of the news received to-day shows that the number of Carlist bands throughout the kingdom is increasing. A party of marauders to-day made an attempt, which proved unsuccessful, to stop a railway train when it was only five miles from Madrid.

NARROW ESCAPE.

MADRID, April 14.—An attempt was made last night to throw the fast train on the Madrid and Sargossa railway off the track near Gigneuta. Obstructions had been placed on the road which could not have been seen in the night. They were fortunately discovered and removed before the train reached Giquenza. The news of this atrocious attempt causes great indignation here. An immediate investigation has been ordered.

PLOT TO BURN BARCELONA.

Dispatches from Captain General of Catalonia say disturbances are feared in Barcelona. Castel's band, 600 strong, is in the vicinity. A plan is on foot for twenty of the band to enter the city and set fire to some buildings, so that in the confusion all their companions can pass in and gain possession of the city. The proofs of the plot are in the hands of the authorities. A detachment of troops has been sent out to find Castell's band. The origin of the present disorders is attributed to the Internationalists, supported by Carlists and Republicans. The Minister of War has ordered the suspension of all furloughs and the immediate return of officers to their posts.

CHURCH BURNED.

The Church of St. Thomas was destroyed by fire last night. Several persons were injured by falling walls and timbers. The King, Marshal Serrano and the city authorities were on the spot and used efforts to save the church. The flames were stayed barely in time to prevent an extensive conflagration.

WEST INDIES.

THE INVASION OF CAPE HAYTI.

PORT AU PRINCE, April 11.—The invasion of Cape Hayti from Monte Christi consisted of one hundred men. Eight Haytiens, five Dominicans and one Frenchman were captured and executed. It is reliably reported that the Haytien Government will probably declare war against Baez, who is charged with an attempt to overthrow President Saget.

ITALY.

THE POPE'S RECEPTION.

ROME, April 14.—The Pope on Friday gave an audience to many citizens of Rome and four hundred persons from foreign parts, His Holiness gave his benediction successively to all countries represented by the visitors, particularly to Ireland, Poland, Holland and the United States of America. He praised France and counselled forbearance and gentleness towards some too intolerant Frenchmen. He prayed for Germany, subjugated as she was, by an anti-Catholic spirit, and Austria, he said, greatly needed the prayers of the faithful.

SOUTH AMERICA.

SPANISH MINISTER SENT AWAY.

CARACAS, March 25, via HAVANA, April 13.—The Spanish Minister has been sent away.

FORCED CONTRIBUTIONS.

President Guzman Blanco has imposed forced contributions of from $5,000 to $15,000 on the merchants of Cindad, Bolivia and Caracas.

SHORT OF CASH.

It is reported that the Insurgents are short of cash and that they intend to make amicable arrangements with Guzman Blanco.

SWITZERLAND.

ARRIVAL OF ARBITRATORS.

GENEVA, April 14.—British and American gentlemen connected with the tribunal of arbitration have arrived here, and the presentation of counter cases will take place to-morrow.

BY MAIL.

M. CARVALHO has been unanimously elected director of the Vaudeville Theatre at Paris.

MR. TENNYSON is engaged on a poem on the illness of the Prince of Wales, which will appear shortly.

IT has been stated that the debts of Prince Napoleon in Paris are said to amount to nearly four million francs.

ACCORDING to the Times of India, the Indian Budget will probably exhibit a surplus of nearly a million sterling.

THE Liverpool school board have resolved to proceed with the construction of schools to accommodate 6,000 children.

A SUBSCRIPTION list has been opened at Vienna, for a monument to Grillparzer. 27,000 florins have been already promised.

IT is stated that Verdi has nearly completed a grand opera, based on the last comedy of Alexandre Dumas, junior, "La Principessa Giorgio."

THE resignation of Lieutenant Governor Archbald, of Manitoba, has been accepted by the Dominion government. Judge Johnson will act pro tem.

THE women of Rome propose erecting a statue of Garibaldi in that city this summer. A large amount of enthusiastic resolutions have already been raised.

A YOUNG composer of piano-forte music, M. Henri Kowalski, has just made a favorable impression in the musical world of Paris by two of his recent productions.

THE Pesther Lloyd is informed on good authority that the French government has refused to take any official part in the Vienna International Exhibition of 1872.

THE Bavarian chamber will shortly discuss the subject of free-masonry, as a petition has been forwarded to that body praying it to decree the prohibition of the order in Bavaria.

UNTIL lately the barbers in German cities have received one and a half cents for shaving, and three and a half for hair cutting. They lately struck for five cents and two and a half respectively!

FRANCE will now have a very short time to wait for the private history of the capitulation of Metz, a resolution to have the evidence at once laid before the Assembly having been carried by an almost unanimous vote.

THE value of the French crown jewels was estimated at between fourteen and fifteen million francs. These, it will be remembered, are authorized to be sold by the National Assembly for the benefit of the national treasury.

THE widow of a British Vice-Consul now lies bed-ridden and desolate at Athens. This may not seem a very remarkable circumstance, but the old lady was formerly Theresa Black, and to her Byron sang, "Maid of Athens, ere we part."

THE Procureur of the French Republic, having been informed that a dozen children, arrested by the Commune, were still confined at La Boquette, repaired to the spot and had them set at liberty. They were utterly ignorant of why they had been put in prison.

THE Old Catholics of Kœnigsburg have resolved to form a congregation of their own. They at present number one hundred and ninety-two souls, but it is supposed that two-thirds of the members of the Catholic Church in that place (600 in all) will join them.

A HALIFAX pilot and three assistants, who at great risk succeeded in getting aboard a Quebec schooner which had parted anchor and was going out to sea with the drift ice, were arrested on bringing her in, for illegally entering the vessel and breaking open the cabin.

THE authorities of the French departments on the Spanish border have been instructed to arrest all Spanish refugees and send them to the Basque provinces for detention. They have also been ordered to stop all packages going into Spain containing cartridges or powder.

THE number of persons now residing at the Vatican, which consists of fifty separate dwellings, with fourteen court-yards and twelve thousand rooms, is three thousand. It is a town without streets. None of the officials have been changed. Antonelli is still Secretary of State.

INTELLIGENCE has just been received from Prof. Huxley that his health has already been greatly renovated by the pure air of Upper Egypt. He wrote from Thebes, and was then contemplating a visit to Assouan, from which he would probably have returned to Thebes before this.

WHEN the new frontier fortresses of Germany are finished it will probably be the strongest line of defences in the world. The line will run from Cologne through Coblentz, Mayence, Metz, Bitsch, Strasburg and New Brisach to a new fortress which will be built somewhere in the Black Forest region.

AN English newspaper says that John Robertson, the gipsy "heir apparent," whose mother, the recognized Queen of the Cairds, holds court at Yetholm, close to the British border, was recently sentenced to forty days' imprisonment with hard labor for assaulting and robbing a traveling comedian and his wife.

THE police in Japan are very vigilant. If you have anything stolen, they run after the thief and bring him back for identification. If the stolen property is found on him, they chop off his head on your door-step. By paying a sum equal to about eleven cents of our money you can do your own killing and keep the body.

DIRECTOR Von Hautken announces the discovery, in the loess deposits of Hungary, of human remains associated with those of post-tertiary mammalia. An almost entire human skeleton has also been found, together with a stone hammer, in the neighborhood of Brux, in Bohemia. The skull closely resembles in its characteristics the well-known fragment from the Neanderthal.

A BIRD in the hand is worth two in the bush. A very poor rich man, named Lal Mitra, was recently admitted to the Lambete workhouse, in London. He is an East Indian of immense estates in India, but his extravagant career in London has deprived him of even the barest means of livelihood. Without friends in England he has been compelled to accept the refuge of the poor house until he can receive a remittence from home.

THE Khan of Khiva, a State bordering the Caspian Sea, is arming against an expected attack by the Russians. All able-bodied men are called to the standard, and attempts are made to drain the western canal of Amou Dar Ya, or to render its water undrinkable. A report, however, comes from St. Petersburg that the Khan has dispatched an Embassy to the Emperor with a conciliatory message. The Russian troops have arrived at Krasnovodsk, on the Caspian. They have been joined by Atamurat, Khan of a Turcoman tribe.

THE Ku-Klux are in Paris. Only the other day, in an open lot of the Rue de Vanvres, the body of a colored gentleman, dressed with remarkable taste, was found pierced with three wounds, apparently inflicted with a dagger. There was clearly no attempt at robbery, for in his pockets were found 1200 francs and the following curious note: "To-night at 3 o'clock three assassins are waiting for me in the 'Clos Villonel.' Still I am going there. Let no attempt be made to discover them if they kill me. I will not utter a single cry, and I pardon them."

A PARIS letter says: "The Prince of Wales has just passed through here, making a stay long enough to recruit for his journey to Rome. He has an open sore in his thigh, which tends to retard his convalescence. Wherever the Prince has been he has been dressed in the plainest style, with no decoration whatever. The Princess, at the Vaudeville Theatre, was dressed in blue satin, covered with white lace, and a diadem of fine pearls in her hair. She looked, as she is, charming. The Prince has only four valets de chambre with him, and the Princess three lady's maids with her. They are considered to be traveling without incumbrances. The Prince speaks French fluently, but with a strong accent."

THERE has been a miracle in France. The Bishop of Laval asserts that on the night of the 17th of January, 1871, the blessed Virgin Mary appeared in very truth to four persons in the little hamlet of Pontmain, and has therefore founded a church for the worship of the "blessed and immaculate lady of hope of Pontmaid." All the circumstances of the vision are recited with the utmost fidelity, and are religiously believed by many millions of the French population. The Bishop has ordered the miracle to be recorded, and has blessed the new church with his particular favor. The Paris papers have made great sport of the miracle, and have therefore excited the ire of the President of the Republic, who is the most Catholic of Catholics.

A Novel Strike.

It seems to be predestinate that everybody who does anything for hire for anybody must, at some time or under some circumstances—strike! Even the rag-pickers of Edinboro' have recently indulged in that healthy amusement, and 100 of them of the female sort went to the premises of Mr. Wass, and vociferously demanded that 20 women employed by him should join them, a sort of enlistment for which the Wass women had not the slightest inclination. The rioters broke open the doors, and threatened, if the women refused to turn out, "to tear out their livers." Rather than permit this anatomical recreation, Mr. Wass concluded to let loose his watch-dog, and in five minutes that able animal had cleared the place. The Sheriff finished the business begun by the dog, for he arrested four of these rag-picking furies, who were fined and bound over to keep the peace; and all "strikers" who behave in such an absurd and tyrannical way deserve precisely the same vigorous treatment.

THE M. E CONFERENCE.

Card from Comptroller Hulburd.

NEW YORK, April 13, 1872.

THE EIGHT HOUR QUESTION.

At a meeting of the bricklayers and builders yesterday afternoon, a resolution to pay their employes on a basis of eight hours a day after May 1st, was lost. After some debate on the hour question, the meeting adjourned.

M. E. CONFERENCE.

At a meeting of the delegates to the Methodist Episcopal Conference yesterday, a report was adopted expressing thanks for the adoption of the lay delegation system; expressing sympathy for the Bishops in the death of their colleagues; asking no change in the Episcopacy, and opposing its limitation to four years. They are also opposed to any modification of the itinerant system, and declare that good faith requires the admission of the lay delegates to the General Conference under a plan adopted by that body, leaving all subsequent modifications to be adopted by the ministry and laity conjointly. W. J. Groo and C. E. North were elected delegates to the General Conference.

The adjourned meeting of the Methodist annual Conference was held to-day. Several members were elected to deacon orders. A large collection was taken up for the East Tennessee College. A resolution protesting against the use of tobacco by the younger members of the Conference caused a great deal of discussion, and some remarkably vivid experiences were related, causing much amusement. The resolution was amended so as to relate to the whole community. Passed.

THE JUDICIAL INVESTIGATION.

The Bar Association has at last furnished for publication the testimony taken before the Judiciary Committee against Judges Cardozo and Barnard. This testimony is in many respects new to the public, inasmuch as a great deal of what has been heretofore published was derived principally from friends of the accused, and consequently was imperfect and to a great extent partial; besides, the sessions of the Judiciary Committee were held in secret. The main points of this testimony have been already telegraphed, in connection with the recent report of the committee to the association. The evidence is very voluminous in details, with great particularity, and will interest the "wheel within the wheel system" of the judicial administration of this city. There seems to be a general impression that the Legislature cannot avoid removing or impeaching these judges on the testimony submitted.

THE DEBT OF GEORGIA.

The sub-committee of the Georgia Legislature, who completed their investigation here last week, find that the books of the State Treasurer do not show an increase of Georgia's debt to its full amount by several millions. The increase of the debt of the State for three years was sixteen millions. Frauds of a gigantic character were perpetrated by the issue of bogus bonds. Another Legislative committee is now in this city, examining these bond frauds, and it is said they will decide against the validity of all fraudulent and illegally issued bonds and liabilities.

COURT OF SPECIAL SESSIONS.

In a case which came before the Court of Special Sessions to-day, the counsel for prisoner contended that as the Court was composed of Justices who were appointed to their offices rather than elected, it followed that the Court was illegal under the consitution of the State. Justice Dowling, who with Messrs. Shandley and Hagan, compose the Court, overruled the exception. The matter will go before the Court of Appeals.

CHARGES AGAINST SHERIFF BRENNAN.

T. C. Weyman sent a communication to the Board of Audit to-day, charging that Sheriff Brennan's bills for commitments of prisoners were fraudulent, in that there were more charges for commitments than there were prisoners arrested.

ATTACHMENT AGAINST THE COMPTROLLER.

An attachment was issued by Judge Brady today against the Comptroller for contempt, in that he neglected to obey the orders of the court in the matter of assignment for street improvement.

SUSPENDED.

The Produce Exchange to-day suspended for fifteen and twenty days each Captain Tinker and Major Hart, who had a personal encounter in the Exchange to-day.

INCREASING SALARIES.

A bill was introduced in the State Senate today increasing the salary of the Governor to $10,000, and other officers proportionately.

COURT HOUSE INVESTIGATION.

An investigation is ordered into the construction of the Court Houses in the third and ninth judicial districts located in this city.

GRANT MEETING CALLED.

A Grant meeting is called at Cooper Institute next week, to outdo the anti-Grant meeting, if possible, of Friday night.

MURDERER SENTENCED.

J. W. Avery, the Creskill murderer, has been sentenced to be hung at Hackensack, New Jersey, on June 28th.

SENATOR O'BRIEN NOT TO RESIGN.

Senator O'Brien has decided to yield to the pressure of his friends, and will withdraw his resignation.

SMALL-POX.

There were thirty-five deaths from small-pox during the week.

NEW YORK, April 14, 1872.

RAILROAD WAR IMMINENT.

Trouble is threatened on the new railroad between Elizabethport and Perth Amboy. The Board of Directors, in accordance with an agreement with the Pennsylvania Central Railroad, contracted for the building of the road and a bridge across the Raritan River at Perth Amboy. When the contractor began work, a force of men appeared on the road under the orders of John Taylor Johnston, a stockholder and formerly connected with the management, and disputed the right to construct the road with other laborers. They were ordered off the line by the President of the Elizabethport & Perth Amboy, Colonel W. A. Jones, and obeyed the order, but returned in force, and a slight disturbance ensued. Both parties have been largely reinforced, and trouble is imminent. The management claim that Mr. Johnston has no authority for his conduct.

CARD FROM COMPTROLLER HULBURD.

Comptroller Hulburd's defense is published in the Herald. He says he was not influenced in favor of the Tennessee National Bank by the present of a carriage from Mr. Rutter. The law was explicitly fulfilled in this as in all other cases. "The testimony taken before the committee is not such," he says, "as would be admitted before any properly constituted tribunal. It is made up of gossip, hearsay &c., and proves nothing. All intimations, however, reflecting on my official integrity are met by a full and explicit denial. I have never received, directly or indirectly, money or property for the performance of any official duty or for refraining or from the performance of any duty, or for any favor which I had in my power to grant in consequence of my official position, and I do not know and do not believe that any subordinate in the employment of this bureau has directly or indirectly received money or property for official favors or for the exercise of influence, real or assumed, with the head of the bureau in behalf of any parties or applicants whatever. On the contrary, I have sought continuously to serve the Government faithfully to the best of my ability in all things."

DEMOCRATIC COALITION.

It is reported that a coalition has been effected between the Tammany and Apollo Hall Democracy, and it is said Sheriff O'Brien will be a candidate for Controller and Daniel F. Tremaine or Robert A. Williams for Mayor, in case charter elections are held in May or June. A ticket for the board of Tammany Sachems is ready to be reported to-morrow night, which is expected to harmonize all conflicting interests. The new board will be installed in May, and will elect a Father of Council and Scribe, M. Schell holding over as Grand Sachem.

ATTEMPT TO RELEASE A MURDERER.

An attempt is making for the release from Sing Sing of Moses Lowenburg, who killed Samuel Hoffman in 1862, and was convicted of murder and sentenced to death. The then existing statute providing that persons so sentenced be executed within the year under a warrant issued by the Governor was repealed in the spring of 1862, and since then successive Governors have declined to grant a warrant.

THE SUIT AGAINST GOULD.

As yet there has been no co-operation on the part of the Erie directors with the Attorney General in the suit against Gould and Lane, but it is understood they are unanimously in favor of the vigorous prosecution of Gould, and deny having paid him a million dollars, which he claimed to have advanced for the use of the road.

CHARITIES.

Miss Nilsson presided last evening at one of the stalls in the Fair in aid of the Homeopathic Surgical Hospital, for which purpose $50,000 are expected to be raised.

Carl Schurz lectured last evening at the Opera House, in Newark, on "The German Nation in America," for the benefit of the German hospital.

EXTENSIVE FIRE.

The Metropolitan Paper Collar Factory, at the corner of Washington and Jay streets, was entirely burned last night. The loss in stock is $100,000. A great portion of the machinery, valued at $150,000, was ruined, and the loss will doubtless reach one-half of its value.

FORE-ORDAINMENT DENIED.

Henry Ward Beecher preached to-day from the text "Our Father," a sermon denying utterly the doctrine of fore-ordainment, and claiming God to be the God of love, and not the fiend which such dogma implies.

The Popular Science Monthly,

EDITED BY

E. L. YOUMANS.

No. 1 for the Month of May.

PRICE, 50 CENTS; OR, $5.00 PER ANNUM.

PROSPECTUS.

The growing importance of scientific knowledge to all classes of the community calls for more efficient means of diffusing it. THE POPULAR SCIENCE MONTHLY has been started to promote this object, and will supply a want met by no other periodical in the United States.

It will contain instructive and attractive articles, and abstracts of articles, original, selected and illustrated, from the leading scientific men of different countries, giving the latest interpretations of natural phenomena, explaining the application of science to the practical arts, and to the operations of domestic life.

It is designed to give especial prominence to those branches of science which help to a better understanding of the nature of man; to present the claims of scientific education; and the bearings of science upon questions of society and government. How the various subjects of current opinion are affected by the advance of scientific inquiry will also be considered.

In its literary character, this periodical will aim to be popular, without being superficial, and will appeal to the intelligent reading-classes of the community. It will seek to procure authentic statements from men who know their subjects, and who will address the non-scientific public for purposes of exposition and explanation.

It is intended to make an instructive and valuable monthly, which will be continued if sustained; and, under any circumstances, it will be published for a year. Those interested in its objects are asked to assist in promoting its circulation.

THE POPULAR SCIENCE MONTHLY will be published in a large octavo, handsomely printed on clear type. Terms, Five Dollars per annum; or, Fifty Cents per copy. A Specimen Copy will be sent on receipt of Twenty-five cents.

CLUB TERMS.

Any person remitting Twenty Dollars for four yearly subscriptions, will receive an extra copy gratis, or five yearly subscriptions for $20.00.

THE POPULAR SCIENCE MONTHLY and APPLETONS' JOURNAL, for one year, $8.00.

REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET.

ULYSSES MERCUR,
BRADFORD COUNTY.

BONDS at Frankfort 95⅝.

THE Monongahela City Republican, one of our best weekly exchanges, comes to us in an entire new dress, looking as fresh as a rosebud in June.

THE "unbleached element" of politics is what the genial Post calls the colored voters. For happy invention of words and sentences, give us that broth of a boy who presides over the columns of our facetious contemporary.

IT MUST afford a singular and peculiar gratification to Mr. Horace Greeley to observe that his tirades against our Republican President are being kept in place as standing campaign thunder in the Democratic papers of the country. He is certainly welcome to all the glory that his crusade against President Grant will bring to him.

ANNA DICKINSON is a Carl Schurz in petticoats. She is traveling through the country firing off cheap torpedoes and Chinese shooting crackers at President Grant, but we have as yet to hear of her doing any damage. As a man she would be held up to scorn as a fool; as a woman it will suffice to laugh at her weakness and imbecility.

A MOVEMENT, having its birth in Philadelphia, is on foot to raise the sum of $50,000 for the purpose of erecting a monument to the late and lamented Major General George H. Thomas. It is as little as a grateful people could do to thus pay trifling honor to the memory and worth of the noble departed hero, whose name will live forever on a bright page of our national history.

THE New York Sun thinks if the voters of the country respond liberally to the action of the leaders of the reform movement that "Grant will take his leave from the White House next March." Now, that is an opinion as is an opinion. If the people turn Grant out it is quite likely he will vacate; but the people are yet to be heard from on the subject. Not taking much stock in the veracity of either Dana or Greeley, in their painting of the political outlook, the masses will persist in moving forward until Grant shall have made another triumph in the coming election.

IT IS decidedly difficult to arrive at any proper definition of affairs in Mexico. The Governmental party and the revolutionists are having a warm time of it, with the advantages, so far, largely in favor of the former. The necessity of a Protectorate being established over that distracted country daily grows more apparent, and if that crisis arrives, the United States will be the party called upon to exercise jurisdiction and bring order out of chaos. While not wishing to interfere with our neighbors, still, for the good of the poor Mexicans, who do not enjoy the sunsine of peace one day out of a hundred, we should be willing that the flag of our country should float as an emblem of authority and protection from one end of Mexico to the other.

IT IS WITH considerable pleasure we note the fact that through the State, and indeed all through the country, the Republicans are getting ready for the approaching Presidential contest, and are perfecting their political organization. Inasmuch as the re-nomination of President Grant by the regular party convention, to be held in Philadelphia, is a foregone conclusion, there is great haste shown by his adherents in thus early getting ready for the impending battle. It has been so often demonstrated in all the affairs of life, that in union there is strength, that it is unnecessary here to re-assert the truism. Organization, and that close and thorough, is a great auxiliary to party strength and success. Every ward, borough and township should at once form its Grant club, hoist up its banner, and enter the field to await the enemy, who will in due time appear.

THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY of these great United States, an organization stiffened by cuffs and blows from the people, grown old and decrepid, is now offered in the political market for sale. Who will buy? What will the Cincinnati Convention bid? How much will they say for the fragments of a once powerful party? Auction goods generally bring high prices, and we are anxious to hear at what sum this old piece of furniture that has so long been an eye-sore to the nation will command. It is now being varnished and refreshened to deceive the naked eye, but its form, being so much out of fashion, we feel it will not bring a very hefty price. The Cincinnati auctioneers will do the best they can by the consignees, and get the highest possible figures from the Schurz-Greeley bidders, and again we ask who wants to buy? Certainly the intelligent people will not bid a continental dollar for the damaged property.

BLACK ROBES, OR SKETCHES OF MISSIONS AND MINISTERS. By Robt. P. Nevin. Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia. John W. Pittock & Co., Pittsburgh. We have received from the publishers a copy of this entertaining and useful book, the product of Pittsburgh talent. It fills a place in recent literature which has always been vacant, and will command a large and ready sale. The sketches are confined chiefly to individuals whose labors "in the wilderness and on the border," were largely instrumental in giving character and tone to the religious sentiment, which has since been a chief characteristic of the country in which these missionary labors were performed. As a memorial of the early times of the then wilderness, this little book is invaluable. It also treats of the early Methodists, the Jesuits of two hundred years ago, the Moravians of Pennsylvania, and the labors of the Presbyterian parson of one hundred years ago. Old Redstone, its people and its Presbytery, deservedly occupy a place in Mr. Nevin's book, vivid pictures are given of early scenes in the pulpit, and in the saddle, and throughout there runs a never failing interest which charms and captivates all readers. The work is neatly bound, well printed, with good large type, so that the thousands of aged readers who will peruse it, with eye-sight dimmed, will have nothing to complain of. Buy it, and read it.

NAPOLEON is evidently busily engaged in collecting together a large sum of money from his various resources, or rather from the investments made whilst at the head of the treasury and throne of France. The recent sale of Eugenie's diamonds and trinkets, and the disposal of the ex-Emperor's New York property are supplemented with a rumor that he has executed a loan of fifteen thousand pounds sterling, and all for what? Certainly he is not living at such a fancy rate as to call for these large replenishments of his personal exchequer, and the other conclusion is inevitable that money is need to forward the schemes, already laid, through which he hopes to secure his re-enthronement. Napoleon is an arch-plotter, and understands personally the modus operandi necessary to carry on successfully, intrigues which will not bear the light of day. He once before secured to himself a throne, in spite of adverse fate and a frowning continent. He will again succeed, if his life is spared, and his second advent will be more brilliant, astounding and unexpected than his first. He already has the army, if reports from its commander can be relied on, the peasantry still worship his name, and ere long he will find his time to strike down the weak abortion, presided over by tottering Thiers, which was crazy enough and cowardly enough to banish such patriots as Rochefort.

COMMERCIAL TRAVELERS.

For the sake of those genial young gentlemen, who, on account of their pleasing address, winning manners, and good looks, are sent out by their employers to sell or display or advertise goods by sample, we republish from the Richmond, Virginia, Journal, the following little episode in the life of a borer for a paper collar factory. It will prove a lesson to all young men similarly inclined, and after reading it, we think, it will not be disputed that the seat of government of the late Southern Confederacy, is rather uncongenial for carpet-baggers, carrying samples of paper collars. Here is the story:

Take, for instance, the case of the young man who visited our city about three weeks ago, representing a paper collar manufactory in Springfield, Mass., and who was three or four times arrested in one day, and finally locked up in the calaboose at night, apparently for no other object than to jerk fifty or a hundred dollars out of him to gratify somebody's spleen, or penchant for sharp practice, or for some other object, questionable or unquestionable, and what did it all amount to?

"The young man had only visited two or three stores, shown the quality of his goods and indicated where they could be ordered, and on what terms. He asked nobody to buy—in fact, he had no goods to sell. He was a mere 'advertising medium,' so far as anything appeared to the contrary. And yet he was arrested, fined fifty dollars, dragged past the Ballard House by the officer making the arrest, refused permission to enter the hotel for the purpose of procuring bail, and thrown into the 'lock-up' with the vilest of men and women, for simply offering to show the quality of certain goods manufactured in another State. This young man, who had been Assistant Paymaster General of the State of Connecticut under a Democratic administration, would have remained in the Station House all night, had it not been for Mr. Carrington, of the Ballard House, who, when he found out what disposition had been made by the 'city authorities' of one of his guests went to police headquarters and bailed him out for the night, giving bonds in the sum of $1,000 for a total stranger.

"The young man was of course discharged the next morning, there being no case provided against him; but it cost him some fifty dollars in counsel fees and other expenses in consequence of his being 'shadowed' by an exceedingly sharp officer."

After reading the above, it appears to us, the conclusion is irresistible, that a law which countenances such tyranny, ought not to disgrace the statute books of any State or municipality. What possible crime could an agent perpetrate, by merely exhibiting his goods, and informing merchants where such could be purchased. It is high time that such disgraceful and foolish laws should be repealed. Once repealed they would never be re-enacted.

PERSONAL.

Reference having been made in one of the journals of this city, to the nomination of Messrs. Errett and Graham by members of the Allegheny county delegation, as Congressmen at large, and as there appears to be a misunderstanding about it, we deem it proper to publish the following explanation. On Wednesday morning last it was rumored that Allegheny and Philadelphia counties would be conceded the two extra Congressmen, in case the Governor signified his intention of refusing or delaying his signature to the apportionment bill. Afterwards it was represented, and before any conclusion had been arrived at by the Allegheny county delegation, that this concession was not to be made; on the contrary it was stated the Convention would nominate the two Congressmen at large, if at all, without regard to location. Nothing more was thought or said on the subject by our delegates, until the moment arrived for placing in nomination the two candidates. In the noise and turmoil and excitement that existed in consequence of the unexpected turn affairs had taken, some of our delegation called out, "Nominate Errett, and we can pull him through; there is no chance for any one else," and other similar words. Prompted thus, by what seemed to be the sentiment of the delegation, Mr. Errett's name was presented by Mr. Long. Senator Graham was immediately after named by Mr. Morgan. This divided the delegation, and efforts were at once put forth to have one, or the other, or both withdraw. Mr. Long found Senator Graham, deprecated the awkward dilemma, plainly indicated his belief that we could not succeed, against the wild clamor apparent on all sides in favor of Ketcham, White, Wm. D. Kelly, Morrell, Todd and others, and counseled his withdrawal. To this, he, at the time, declined to assent. Errett was then found, and promptly coincided with us, that there was no hope now for any body but Ketcham and other defeated aspirants. He had his name withdrawn at once, without hesitation. After his withdrawal, Senator Graham, seeing the way matters were certainly drifting, ordered his name to be withdrawn. The whole thing was sudden and unexpected, and fell upon the convention like a thunder-clap, amid a perfect storm of turmoil, succeeding a bitter personal debate between the Ketcham and Hartranft factions, and it was evident to any sensible observer that harmony could only be arrived at, by conceding the remaining nominations to the defeated candidates for Governor.

If it is of the slightest importance to any one, we will add for information, that Mr. Long would have nominated and supported Senator Graham as Congressman at large, had the position been conceded to Allegheny county; but as it turned out he objected to, and opposed his nomination, and that of Mr. Errett's also, simply because he felt sure they would be hopelessly ignored and defeated in the wild shout for Ketcham and White, which appeared to be unanimous. He nominated Mr. Errett, not because he deemed it expedient, but in obedience to what appeared, at the time, to be the wish of the delegation. These gentlemen, as well as the Allegheny county delegates were not long in discovering that there was no possible chance for their selection as candidates as Congressman at large.

A few corrections of the errors which appear in the Dispatch article, seem to be necessary, and if that journal desires to do all parties justice, it will heed the following. It says "Senator Graham, of course, refused to come in as a substitute." He was not offered as a substitute. He was named simultaneously with Mr. Errett, and after the latter's withdrawal, had the united support of the Allegheny county delegation, and unless he feared defeat, there was no occasion for his withdrawal. Some now think, that had he remained on, he would have been nominated. We thought, and still think otherwise, however. The Dispatch adds: "No one can doubt that Senator Graham would have proved a strong candidate, and it is equally clear that he would have imparted strength to the ticket in Allegheny county." This we endorse as true. We regretted exceedingly when we learned that Allegheny county was not to be permitted to name him, or any one, as the choice of its delegation.

Our contemporary says further: "The error of putting strong-headed men on as delegates to an important convention was never more clearly illustrated." This is a personal fling at us, which exposes the animus of the entire article, and whilst it places its author in his proper position, can surely do Senator Graham no good. Had the editor of the Dispatch asked for a statement of the matter from us, we should have given it to him without hesitation or reservation. The Dispatch adds:

It is right and proper to secure independence in the right sense—but there should be among delegates a fair understanding and harmony. The trouble was, that one person thought to distinguish himself, and succeeded in injuring all his friends, while he did none of them any good. It is well known that Mr. Errett conceded the nomination to Senator Graham, and was quite as much astonished as any one when his own name was put in nomination.

We should not notice this extract except for the fact that we understand it to have been dictated by Mr. Graham himself; and we shall only add that instead of Mr. Errett conceding this nomination to him, we were informed just the contrary, and that by Mr. Errett himself. There is a question of veracity, which we can afford to leave stand just where it is. As for the other insinuation, that we "thought to distinguish" ourself, it is sufficiently answered above, where we state that Errett's nomination was made on what we thought to be the wish of the delegation, and against our judgment. That judgment was subsequently proved right, as defeat stared both gentlemen in the face.

For corroboration of the above statements we refer to Messrs. John Ross, James Taylor and Mr. Errett himself, who stood alongside of us at the time the nomination was made. The entire delegation will, we think, pronounce the above true in every particular.

Pleasant Book for Children.

The Manchester Examiner calls attention to a charming little book entitled "The Sight of Hell." It is by the Rev. Father Furniss, C. SS. R., is printed "permissu superiorum" and is recommended to be used along with the Catechism in Sunday-schools as part of a course of religious instruction. It is one of a series of "Books for children and young persons." From the following extract it will be seen that the work is not of an inspiriting character. The Rev Father is supposed to be taking his young charges on a little tour of inspection, during which he acts as cicerone. Among many things too disagreeable to mention, he points out the Striking Devil:—

Little children if you go to hell there will be a devil at your side to strike you. He will go on striking you every minute for ever and ever without stopping. The first strike will make your body as bad as the body of Job, covered from head to foot with sores and ulcers. The second stroke will make your body twice as bad as the body of Job. The third stroke will make your body three times as bad as the body of Job. The fourth stroke will make your body four times as bad as the body of Job. How, then, will your body be after the devil has been striking it every moment for a hundred millions of years without stopping?

He then shows them "A Dress of Fire:"

Job xxxviii,—Are not thy garments hot? Come into this room. You see it is very small. But see in the midst of it there is a girl, perhaps about eighteen years old. What a terrible dress she has on—her dress is made of fire! On her head she wears a bonnet of fire. It is pressed down all over her head; it burns her head; into the skin; it scorches the bone of her skull and makes it smoke. The red-hot fiery heat goes into the brain and melts it. Ezek. xxii.—I will burn you in the fire of my wrath; you shall be melted in the midst thereof as silver is melted in the fire. You do not, perhaps, like a headache. Think what a headache that girl must have. But see more. She is wrapped up in flames, for her frock is on fire. If she were on earth she would be burned to a cinder in a moment. But she is in hell, where fire burns everything, but burns nothing away. There she stands burning and scorched. She counts with her fingers the moments as they pass away slowly, for each moment seems to her like a hundred years. As she counts the moments she remembers that she will have to count them forever and ever.

The children are favored with the sight of a boiling boy. "But listen, there is a sound like that of a kettle boiling. Is it really a kettle boiling? No. Then what is it? Hear what it is. The blood is boiling in the scalded veins of that boy. The brain is bubbling and boiling in his head. The marrow is boiling in his bones." The child is supposed to be boiling in accordance with Amos iv.: "The days shall come when they shall lift you up on pikes, and what remains of you in boiling pots." They also have a peep at a baby in a red-hot oven: "Hear how it screams to come out! See how it turns and twists itself about in the fire! It beats its head against the roof of the oven. It stamps its little feet against the floor of the oven. You can see on the face of this little child what you see on the face of all in hell—despair, desperate and horrible." What a dear, nice, excellent tender teacher of little children this Father Furnace must make! How nobly he inculcates the doctrine of God being Love in this interesting little work of his!

London Hotels—A Contrast.

"It is a pity," says a London newspaper, "that when our London speculators took to imitating the grand hotels of Paris they should not have borrowed some ideas for internal arrangement. They might have made their caravanseries infinitely more attractive to their clients. We pride ourselves on "home" as an English institution, but we have no wish to push our affection for it to such lengths as to be wretchedly abroad whenever we are away from it. Of course the London hotels provide private sitting-rooms, which figure specially in the bill, as well as the public ones, which are considered in the general charges. The former are only within the reach of the wealthy, while the latter, being free to all, are pleasant to none. A shy bachelor from the country, unprovided with a club, suffers painfully. His bed-room is sufficiently furnished—indeed every moment he has cause heartily to desire that his furniture migh thave been retrenched upon by the administration. The modest dimensions of the apartment are significant of the value of metropolitan building ground; the mighty four-poster is thrusting itself forward into the fireplace, the washhand-stand is elbowing the toilet table with its old-fashioned looking glass up against the chest of drawers, while the wardrobe cuts a huge cantle out of the other side, and thrusts into a corner the table and arm-chair which, linking themselves to old associations, excite an eager longing for a sitting-room. You have never been in the way of making yourself at home in your bed-room, and if you want to enjoy a book quietly, the only way is to fancy yourself slightly indisposed. Contrast with that the comfortable coquettish apartment you can have in Paris for four francs upwards according to the floor. Light paper, dark heavy carpet, a profusion of cushioned chairs in maroon velvet and on castors; bright mirrors fixed to the wall out of the way, a low white marble mantle-piece, with bronze clock and candelabra; a neat velvet-covered table in the middle of the room; a washing-stand hid away in its case of mahogany, and a compact bed. You put the keys of your quarters in your pocket, can eat and drink where you please, and are an independent man with a home to retire to. The system pays in Paris; why should it not answer in London?"

Humors of the Book Trade.

The humors of the book trade have never had a fair showing; and we live in hope that some competent person will one day do justice to the subject in a volume. Much of the fun of the trade springs from the misunderstanding or confusion of titles. Every one knows how frequently, a few years ago, booksellers received orders for "In a Garden"—Enoch Arden" being the book wanted. Once a bookseller's boy made the round of our jobbing book stores, in a vain search for a copy of "The Hen Which Croweth". When it was ascertained that the call on his order-book was, in fact, for "The Hour Which Cometh," his demand was speedily answered, and he was admonished to take lessons in reading manuscript. Not long ago a gentleman who takes superficial views of things, seeing in a book store a copy of F. C. Burnand's "More Happy Thoughts," read the title "More's Happy Thoughts;" and supposing the volume to be a collection of Sir Thomas More's pious meditations, bought and sent it as an appropriate gift to a devout friend. A firm in this city once received an order for "Homer's Odyssey, if their is such a book." One day last month a bookseller's boy entered a jobbing house in New York, and, referring to his "pick-up book," called for a copy of "Who's Your Schoolmaster." Mr. D., laughing at the boy's mistake, produced a copy of Mr. Eggleston's capital book, "The Hoosier Schoolmaster." But the youth refused to take it—it was not the book wanted—and, opening his "pick-up book," he triumphantly showed the written order for "Who's Your Schoolmaster." He would not be convinced, and departed to seek elsewhere the red book.—Literary World.

The Absconder Conklin.

The New York Times says: There is good news for the depositors in the Market Savings Bank. The absconding Secretary, Conklin, who is now in Canada, has been forced to disgorge eighty thousand dollars of his plunder, and is, moreover, to be brought to this city to be tried for forgery. The money recovered belongs, of course, to the depositors, and will somewhat increase their dividends when the tedious proceedings in bankruptcy are ended. The prospect that Conklin will be punished is, however, of much more consequence, and most of his victims would be quite willing to lose a part of their money could they be sure that this miserable scoundrel would meet with his deserts. It is not yet known that any proceedings at law have been taken against Van Name, the President of the bank, and his fellow-officers. If it is true that these men received deposits in the bank after they knew that its failure was certain, a criminal indictment would probably lie against them.

THE fortification of the lower Elba is proceeding rapidly, and there is talk of the erection of a third fort, which is to be commenced in the course of the year.

For the Pittsburgh Gazette.

WHAT ARE WE!

BY JOHN K. HOLMES.

What countless minds there are to please!
Some swayed by action, some by ease,—
Some without aim, and some that wait
As porters at the door of Fate.

When I walk through the crowded street
I know, in every heart I meet
Some hidden yearning moves its blood,—
Some thought of evil or of good.

Pride's secret nurse that lies within
May feed some story-telling sin,
Which, in the after years may glide
A serpent through that cell of pride.

Too oft upon Life's fringes move
The spider feet of luckless love,
While soft, eventful years reveal
The woof of ills the heart must feel.

O Life, thou riddle, instance here
What means a smile, what counts a tear!
The sovereign stream of time moves on,
The smile is lost, the tear is gone.

Could we, in one voracious day
At Sparta's rock all anguish lay,
How would the hearts beleagued by ill
Crowd there, and be forever still.

But ah, Life is no transient fight,—
Its battle thunders day and night!
Fever and faction, spleen and trust
Rally their hosts till we are dust.

After writing the above I received the following note from my old and highly esteemed friend, "Rug Phipps", who has lately made a fortune, and desires to be fat and good humored.

"Dear Jack:—Your writings are two philosophical. I do not believe there is a grain of humor in you. You must get off your stilts and think about the larder. Do not wither us up; let us all grow fat. I do not read any thing more profound than a novel, and I look back on my college days with a tinge of sadness. You could laugh then; what is the matter with you now?

Answer to Phipps the Fat.

What odd old chaps there are to please,
Some swayed by action, some by ease,
Some dry as chips, and some that wait
Like surly porters at the gate.

When we walk through the crowded street,
We're shy of half the wights we meet;
They know not me, nor care for you,
Nor do we ask what tricks they do.

One may have forty whims within,
Half masked beneath a gentle grin,—
At bank, perhaps, a man of parts
Who reads the notes to study hearts.

If I would stand at some big door,
I might meet Jones, and Smith, and Moore,
They have a scheme for getting rich,
And salve to cure the poor man's itch.

From yonder door comes limping Dick,
All through the winter he's been sick;
He got the shakes from buying land,
The house he raised was built on sand.

"How are you, artist?" "I'm not well;
My pictures do not seem to sell!"
"Well, burn them," said I with a whine,
"For that's one way I take with mine."

"Good morning, sir," says Brown to me;
"You are a poet now, I see;
I have a project yet in rough,
But by and by I'll want a puff."

"A puff," said I, "Now you are quick—
You must not lay it on so thick;
You offer money—go your way,
I'll cease to write when it will pay!"

SHORT ITEMS.

IOWA has produced a fair sample of cotton, and sent a bale to New Orleans.

PROF. J. J. CHISOLM, M. D., of Maryland University, says that no good comes of the practice of submerging the eye in cold water once a day.

THE New York World has been publishing the alphabet, having, we presume, good reason for supposing it would be news to a great part of its constituency.

A SPRINGFIELD woman, who was determined not to be cheated, made a clerk measure a spool of cotton the other day to see if she was getting the two hundred yards which belonged to her.

ROBERT E. GARNHAM, a little boy aged ten, died in Cincinnati on the 8th, having eaten some seeds of the plant stramouim, commonly called "jimson weed," which he found growing in a vacant lot.

A CALF at Des Moines, Iowa, committed suicide one day last week by hanging, having inserted its head between two fence rails. Financial embarrassments are believed to have caused the rash act.

THE excitement attendant upon a feline dispute may be intensified by dipping the cats in tar and then rolling them in sand. Cats thus gravel-roofed are infinitely superior to the ordinary kind for the purpose of defensive warfare.

THE mansion in which the famous Nathan murder occurred in New York remains to this day just as it was on the night of that event. The blood-stained carpet has been taken up, but the deep stains which soaked through into the floor are ineffaceable. The only tenant is a bulky German housekeeper.

SOME one who considers himself an authority on such subjects says that the guests at a dinner party should remain only twenty minutes after dinner, or leave immediately after rising from the table, as it is the hour before and the hour after a dinner party which is so wearisome and trying to both host and hostess.

A SWEDISH paper, the Norrkjopings Tidenda, publishes a story of a man who recently died of small-pox at the village of Kettilstad, and who confessed before witnesses that he, with several accomplices, started the great fire of Chicago. This will do something with some people to relieve Mrs. O'Leary's cow of an unpleasant share of immortality.

ACCORDING to the Louisville Courier-Journal the Louisville & Nashville Railroad has just adopted the use of the Westinghouse air brake, at an expense of nearly $30,000. At a trial trip of the first train on Wednesday, the brake stopped the train, when running thirty miles an hour down grade, in fifteen seconds, and within a distance of 580 feet.

CHARLES LIVINGSTONE, a convict at New Albany who had seven years to serve, tried to get out by packing himself into a box filled with spokes. Unfortunately he forgot to mark the case "This side up, and was placed head downward in the wagon. The pain finally compelled him to shout for help, and he was unpacked and shipped back to durance vile.

MRS. FAIR's new trial will begin on the 24th of June. A letter to the Boston Globe says that public feeling has experienced a change favorable to her, and that everything seems to foreshadow her final acquittal. She is reported to be worth $50,000, and it is said that during a recent excitement in stocks she was largely interested, and made over $200,000 clear.

ATTENTION is called to Mrs. Peter Gronda, of Mackinac county, Michigan. She has twenty-three children. One of her sons has fifteen children, one of her daughters has thirteen children, another of her daughters has twelve children, and all the rest of Mrs. Gronda's sons and daughters have large and increasing families. Further, the old lady wears snow-shoes and can walk ten miles a day without blinking.

A NARROW-GAUGE railroad convention is to be held in St. Louis, on Wednesday, the 19th of June next. The movement is regarded as of prime importance to all persons interested in the narrow-gauge theory. Officers of narrow-guage roads, dealers in narrow-gauge materials, and railroad engineers are specially invited. A committee of arrangements will meet in St. Louis on the Monday preceding the convention.

A YOUNG gentleman who aspires to write for the press thus records a transaction which recently came to his knowledge: "Any person learning the whereabouts of a young man named Scott, who attempted to seal a bottle of benzine this morning, with a lighted candle standing near the bottle, will confer a favor on his sister at the Mission by reporting the same to her, as his clothes will fit her husband, who is badly in need of them."—San Francisco Bul.

The Journal of the Telegraph announces that the seemingly wild problem of transmitting messages both ways at the same time, on the single wire, has at last been solved. It does not work to perfection, buts its entire possibility has been completely demonstrated. Those sanguine experimenters who have so often tried to make two railways trains going in opposite directions pass each other on the same track may now take heart. If the the thing can be done on the telegraph why not on the rail?—

MR. ELIHU BURRITT, the New Bedford (Mass.) Mercury reports, recently showed to a clerical friend a draft (just written) of a call for an International Peace Congress, to be held at the Cooper Institute in this city, on the 13th of next September. This call is addressed to the leading publicists and philanthropists of the world, and is to translated into the various languages. We sincerely hope that the pertinacity with which the friends of peace cling to their leading idea will bear good fruit; and there is some reason to believe that it will.

REV. ALEXANDER HENRY, an English Roman Catholic priest, writes a genial epistle to Father Hyacinthe, wherein occurs the following passage of sweet and Christian-like regard: "As a priest of the Holy Roman Church, Catholic and Apostolic, I experience a supreme pleasure in awaiting the day of death and of the last judgment, when I shall see you and your collaborators of the Esperance de Rome cast into the pit and its torments forever. When I reflect on the existence of such apostates as you, I bless the justice of God that it provides a hell." There is more of the same apostolic kind, but a little of it goes a great way.

THE Cavalry Society, composed of officers and enlisted men of the Cavalry Corps of the Army of the Potomac, will meet in Cleveland on the 8th proximo. Its last meeting was held in Boston in May of last year, when it was proposed to enlarge the Association by including the officers and men of all the United States cavalry, and adopting a title expressive of the change. We are told that this is the first attempt "to unite the whole body of any special arm." Gen. Sheridan is President of the Society; and its object is "to promote kindly feeling, revive old associations, and collect and preserve records of the service of the cavalry."

The English Answer to Our Answer.

The government organ in London, the Observer says in reference to the English note, at present before the Cabinet at Washington: "We are informed upon reliable authority that the dispatch forwarded from the Foreign Office in reply to the American note is of a most conciliatory and studiously friendly character. It is of great length, and enters fully upon the argumentative aspect of the question at issue. At the same time the dispatch not only reiterates the protest contained in the note forwarded on the 3d of February, as to the inadmissibility of the indirect claims, but states explicitly that our government is unable to submit the question of the admissibility of these claims to the decision of the tribunal of arbitration."

Youthful Depravity.

Bridgeport has a promising boy burglar. He broke into a house a few days ago, and to direct suspicion in another quarter, he put on a man's pair of boots, raised a window that it might appear the entrance had been effected in that way, and dropped a note in the hall, purporting to have been written in New York, in which the writer said he would stop at Bridgeport and go through Jones' house. The ruse threw the detectives off the track, and no knowledge of the thief was obtained until he was arrested in New York on account of his suspicious appearance, when he confessed the whole affair. For a boy only thirteen years old this will do.—Worcester Spy.

HEART DISEASE.
A GREAT CURE BY DR. KEYSER.

I came to Dr. Keyser early in December last with a broken constitution and general impaired health. I had pains about my heart and tightness across the chest, and my suffering was truly great, and I found my health fast wearing away. I had every appearance and every feeling of disease of the heart. Every one who saw me could easily tell how sick I was by my sallow look and emaciated form. I could not perform the slightest labor without the greatest exertion, which always produced extreme physical prostration and palpitation and pain about the heart. I have now taken medicine from Dr. Keyser for nearly four months, and I feel as vigorous as ever in my life—in fact, I feel my health better than before I commenced treatment.

I have given permission to Dr. Keyser to publish these facts with reference to my cure in the hope that other sufferers may be benefitted by his treatment.

DISEASED DIGESTION.

If chronic indigestion affected the stomach only it might be more easily borne; but it gives rise, inevitably, to many other diseases affecting the liver, the nerves, the bowels and the brain. Biliousness, nervous tremors, constipation, headache and terrible mental disturbances are among its usual accompaniments. In fact, every organ, every fibre of the frame sympathizes with the diseased and debilitated stomach. What is needed in such a case? Clearly an alterative and invigorant; and among medicines of that class Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is, beyond all comparison or estimate, the best. Mere purgatives only deprive the system of the little strength that disease has left it. Salivants have the same effect. The whole internal organism has gone wrong, and can only be put right and kept right by a medicine in which the tonic and stimulating elements predominate, but are qualified and modified by anti-bilious aperients and blood-purifying components. Now, the truth is (and the medical faculty as well as the public know the fact), that Hostetter's Bitters contain every ingredient requisite for the cure of dyspepsia and all the ailments of body and mind which it involves. This has been proved in so many thousands of instances that it seems almost idle to repeat the statement.

The great tonic rallies exhausted nature, from whatever cause enfeebled, and permanently recruits the vigor of the nerves, the muscles and the brain. Its effect upon the brain is to give strength to the will and precision to the judgment, and to banish despondency and that infirmity of purpose which generally accompanies bodily weakness.

A WATER COLOR FOR THE HAIR.

Ladies and gentlemen are alike interested in this article, for they are all interested in their own personal appearance and personal adornment. DAILY GAZETTE.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
SATURDAY, April 13, 1872.

One of the best informed writers at Washington, as to tariff movement, says there is no doubt now in the minds of members of the Ways and Means and Finance Committees that a tariff bill will pass at this session, and that it will embody a consolidation of taxes on distilled spirits, and make a new export law, abolish a large number of internal taxes and increase the free list. A proposition is also pending in Committee to relieve the suspense of the tea and coffee interests by reporting at an early day a bill fixing the duty on coffee at two and on tea at ten cents a pound. The pressure from the tea and coffee trade of New York, Boston and Philadelphia, for an early and final decision upon the duty on those articles, is very strong and active.

For the million of gold offered for sale at New York by the Treasury there was 26 bids, amounting to $3,813,500, from 109.80 to 110.50. The amount sold went at from 110.38 to 110.50.

NEW YORK, April 13, 1872.

Gold has been dull and steady all day at $1,10⅛@1,10⅜. Loans were from 2 to 4 per cent. for carrying. Clearings $26,000,000. The specie exports for the week amounted to $471,023. Governments opened very firm. The market closed strong, with an advance of ⅛@¼ per cent. State bonds dull and closed quiet. The money market was easier at 7 per cent gold to 1-32; closed steady at 7 to 7 per cent. gold. The bank statement is unfavorable. It shows that the banks have made a net loss of $296,575 in their legal reserve. They now hold only $892,675 above the 25 per cent. required by law. The Assistant Treasurer paid out to-day $46,000 on account of interest, and $175,000 for redemption of 5-20 bonds. The stock market at the final close rallied slightly in a few shares, but the general list was dull and devoid of animation. When the bank statement became known, the market was a little more active. At the close the bears made a raid on Northwestern and sold it down from 80½, the highest, to 78⅜c, closing at 79½c, the outside of Northwestern. The general market closed dull and steady at prices slightly better than at the opening. Northwestern closed firm at 79½@79⅝.

CLEVELAND, April 13.—Wheat steady; prime No 1 red winter $1,68; No 2 $1,28. Corn dull at 52@53c. Oats dull; 43c for Ohio. Refined petroleum firm; 21c for car lots; 22@22½c for trade lots.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
SATURDAY April 13, 1872.

ASHES—Common soda ash 6½; refined, 7; Nitrate, 5; Pots, 10; Pearls, 10.

APPLES—Sales at $4 to $5 per bbl for fair to prime, and $5,50 for choice. Trade slow and the bulk of the sales are within the range of $4 to $5.

APPLE BUTTER—Common to fair 65 to 70 per gallon; prime to choice, 75@80.

BEANS—Sales at $2,50 to $3 per bushel, as to quality.

BUTTER—Is easier, though for the best grades prices prices are still maintained, 29 to 30 for prime to choice—fancy, 1@2 cts more. Low grade butter dull and in good supply.

BROOM CORN—Is quiet and unchanged; sales, mostly in small lots, within the range of 5½@8½ ℔ ℔ as to quality.

CANNED GOODS—Steady but unchanged; Peaches (3 lb. cans) $6@7 per case; Tomatoes $4,50 @5; Corn $5@6.50, according to brand.

CHEESE—We can report sales of new at 15 to 17 cts as to quality; prime old Goshen, 20 cts.

CRANBERRIES—Quoted at $12@14 for common to fair; and $16@17 for prime.

CARBON OIL—Is dull but prices are nominally unchanged; 18½ to 19 by the car load and 2@3 cts additional for smaller lots.

CONCENTRATED LYE—$5,25 ℔ case.

COUNTRY BACON—Shoulders, 5@5½; Clear sides 6¼@7; hams 8@9. Country lard 8@8½.

DRIED FRUIT—Peaches, 9@10 for halves; 7 to 8 for mixed; 5 to 6 for quarters and 15 to 20 for peeled, according to quality. Apples in steady demand with sales at 8 to 9 for common to prime and 9½ for choice. Blackberries, 14 to 16; pitted cherries, 28 to 30; unpitted, 6 to 8.

EGGS—In fair supply and the market is weak though prices are without quotable change; 18 to 20 cts. Holders generally are anxious to realize.

FLOUR—The market is steady with a good local trade, and the recent advance is well sustained. Sales, in a jobbing way, at $7,40 to $7,75 for fair to choice Spring wheat and $8,25 to $8,50 for good to choice red winter. Rye flour, $5,50.

GRAIN—Wheat continues scarce and with a good milling demand, prices are firm but unchanged, $1,68@1,72 for fair to prime red, and 3@5cts more for white, according to quality. Rumors are current in Chicago, of a "corner" in wheat for May. The Chicago Tribune, of Friday, in referring to the matter says: "There is no knowing, at this distance of time, whether such a corner be determined on or not; the fact that it is talked about thus early is ratheragainst the probability, and corners must be kept dark to be successful. But it is known that a corner is possible as many sections are bare of wheat, though it is far from being as scarce all over the country as has been reported. The corner excitement is more probably the result of a few hints dexterously thrown out by parties who want to sell now, instead of waiting for May. It is now known that a similar bull movement was plotted last week, but the execution was spoiled by one of the parties to the compact; he took advantage of the time to sell out his load to his partners. There was very little trading in cash wheat to-day, as the seller April deals are all settled up, and the shipping movement is light; but the demand for May options was good, for the reason above noted." Oats continue steady, and holders are generally disposed to be "bullish," but the demand is only fair, while the supply is large for the season; we continue to quote at 48@50cts for mixed to white, an advance of two cents per bushel within the past ten days. There is a fair demand for Shelled Corn, but prices are unchanged, 58@60cts—sales of mixed at 57@58. Rye is in light supply, and ddalers are taking all that offers at $1. Barley is quiet, and prices are nominally unchanged; 70@75 for spring, and 75@80 for fall.

GROCERIES—Coffee has dropped ¼@½ a cent per lb. in the east within the past forty-eight hours, and a further decline is generally anticipated. Sugars quiet and unchanged. New crop New Orleans Molassess, firm, and stocks are light, not only in this market, but all over the country. Syrups are easier and we reduce our quotations.

COFFEE.—Rio—Choice, 24@24½; Prime, 23@23½; Good, 22½; Fair, 22. Java, 28. Roasted, pure, 27, lower grades, 25@26.

RAW SUGARS.—Choice New Orleans, 11@11¼; Prime, 10½; Good, 10; Fair, 9½. Choice Porto Rico, 10½; Prime, 10¼. Demerara—Choice, 11⅜; Good, 11¼.

REFINED SUGARS.—Standard Hards, 13; do A., 12; do B., 11⅞; do Ex. C., 11⅜; do C., 11⅝; do C. Yellow, 11⅛.

NEW ORLEANS MOLASSES.—Choice, 70; Prime, 68; Good, 65; Fair, 60.

SYRUPS.—Fancy White Drips, 70; White Honey, 65; Havemeyer & Elder's, 63@65; othre grades, from 40@50.

RICE.—Carolina—Choice, 9¾; Prime, 9¼; Good, 9. Rangoon, 8@8¼. Patna, 8½@9.

SPICES.—Grain Pepper, 24; do Pimento, 16; Cassia, 50; Cloves, 22; Nutmegs, $1,30.

HOMINY—Is quiet and unchanged; sales in a jobbing way, at $4,50@4,75 per barrel.

HAY—Is in light supply, and firm but unchanged; we continue to quote baled, on wharf and track, at $27@30.

MAPLE SYRUP—Is in good supply, and we reduce our quotations to $1,60@1,70 for gallon jugs. Maple Sugar 16@17cts.

OILS—No. 1 lard oil is easier, and we reduce our quotations to 82@83 cts ℔ gallon in a jobbing way.

ONIONS—Silver Skins $3,00@$3,25 per bbl. Yellow, $2,50@2,75; red, $1,75@2,00 per bush. Onion setts, $4@5 per barrel.

POTATOES—Sales in jobbing way, at 75@85 cts per bushel, according to quality. Early Rose, for seed, $3,00@3,25 per barrel.

SEEDS—Clover seed is selling, in a jobbing way, at $5,50 to $5,75 and timothy is still quoted at $3,00 to $3,50. Flax seed is scarce and higher, $1,90.

TALLOW—Rough 8½@9cts

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
SATURDAY, April 13, 1872.

Trade in this market has not been as active during the past week as expected, though there has been some stir nevertheless, and the indications for the future, although not all that could be desired, are more encouraging. While it is true that the refining interests here are not in a very promising condition at the present time, and that the margins for some years past have been very small, it is also true that Pittsburgh is still, and justly, too, regarded as the great refining depot of the country; and while she may have in the future, as in the past, serious obstacles to contend with, she enjoys advantages possessed by no other place in the country. There has been a strong disposition manifested in certain quarters to transfer the trade from here to the oil regions, but it has failed, and there is good reason to believe that it never will succeed. This was the cause of the hostility of the refiners in the oil regions to the "South Improvement Company;" while denouncing this organization as a huge monopoly, their great desire is to monopolize the refining business themselves. However, in this they can never expect to succeed. Our refiners have great advantages which they can never expect to possess. For instance in the matter of fuel, which is a very important element in this branch of business, it is cheaper here than in the oil regions, and the same is true of iron, another very important item; barrels are also lower, and the same is true of labor, chemicals, etc., etc. The cost of transportation to the sea-board, as a rule is also cheaper, though this is one of the most serious difficulties to which Pittsburgh refiners are subjected. While, as already intimated, our manufactures, as a rule, have not realized a fair return on the capital invested and risks incurred, we would like to know if the refiners in the oil regions, as a general thing, have done any better?

The market to-day was very quiet and about the only new feature to notice is a stronger feeling. Refined was quoted as follows: buyer last half of April, 21¼@21⅜; seller 1st half of May, 21½; buyer last May, 21⅞; buyer last half June, 22⅜, with sales. Crude is also firmer; sales at Parker's at $3,27½ per barrel and later in the day, $3,30 was asked. Barge oil, Pittsburgh delivery, 8⅜@9.

Receipts crude this week, 25,755; last week, 6,922; January 1st to date, 219,708; same time last year 249,614. Exports refined this week, 1,498 bbls; last week, 4574; January 1st to date, 139,789; same time last year, 131, 023.

Iron Markets.

NEW YORK.—Pig iron has been strong in price on scant offerings of stock and a fair inquiry, with sales reported of 500 tons Engleton at $52@52,50, with Glengarnock quoted at $52; No 1 American at $51@52, and No 2 do, at $50@51. Of wrought scrap iron, 1,000 tons were purchased, for forward delivery, on private terms. Iron rails have been actively sought after and quoted at $85, currency, for American and $76, gold, for English, with sales of 1,250 tons of the latter at the quoted rate.

PHILADELPHIA.—Pig iron is in demand at the advance. Sales of No 1 foundry at $50@52; No 2 at $49@51; Grey Forge at 47@48; Scotch pig at $48@49, and mottled at $47 per ton. Old rails sell for shipment at $53@54 per ton, and nails at 5,75 per keg.

LIVE STOCK MARKET.

CENTRAL STOCK YARDS, EAST LIBERTY,
SATURDAY, April 13, 1872.

The receipts of stock at these yards during the week ending to-day were as follows:

Cattle	300 cars
Hogs	102 "
Sheep	72 "
Horses	33 "
Mules	4 "
Total	509

CATTLE.

The arrivals, as will be seen, were unusually light this week, only footing up three hundred cars all told; of these a large proportion were through stock, so that the actual number of market on cattle was very small. With a diminished supply and an increased demand, particularly for shipment to Philadelphia, trade was better than it has been for several weeks past, and prices, for the best grades, a shade higher. There were only two or three loads bought for New York, and there was but a single New York buyer in attendance; however, there was a pretty full delegation from Philadelphia and as that market was better last Monday than it has been for some time past, they bought pretty freely, and this together with the fact that the supply was small, produced, as already stated, a stronger feeling and, enabled holders to realize fair prices.

Following are the rates for the different grades: prime to extra 1,400@1,500 steers, 6¾@7 cts; good 1,200@1,300 lbs, 5¾@6; common to medium, 1,000@1,100, $5,50 to $6. The offerings of stock steers continue very light and with an increased demand the market is firmer though prices are without quotable change; 4½ to 5 cts for 800 to 1,000 averages.

Following embraces most of the sales since our last report;

SHEEP.

The "run" of sheep, as will be seen, was light, only seventy cars against exactly double the number two weeks ago; and with diminished receipts at New York, also, the market is considerably firmer than it has been for two weeks past, and prices, especially, for the best grades are up, as compared with last Saturday, at least ¼ of a cent. per lb.—some dealers quoted the advance at ½. There were several cars of clipped on sale this week, and the arrivals of this kind it is expected will increase from this out, while, on the other hand the receipts of wool will no doubt continue light until after shearing is over. The former sold at $5,20@5,87½ according to quality; the latter may be quoted at 8¾@9¼cts for prime, 90 to 100 lbs fine wool; and 110 to 115 lbs same kind, of which the offerings were very small this week, at $9,35@9,50

HOGS.

The arrival of hogs were also light, and the market closes firmer, and prices, as compared with the early part of the week, are a shade higher. Philadelphia hogs quoted to-day at $5,00@5,10 for good to prime selected; and Yorkers at $4,40@4,65, according to quality. The inquiry for the lattea kind was more active yesterday and to-day, and the supply was scarcely equal to the demand. Following sales are reported:

RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede steadily at this point, although still in good navigable condition, ten feet in the channel; the weather continues clear and pleasant, and all that could possibly be desired for the transaction of out door business.

The arrivals since our last report include the Argosy, from Cincinnati, and the Exchange, from St. Louis.

The Mollie Ebert departed for St. Louis, about ten o'clock yesterday, with a fair trip, and engagements below.

The Granite, from Portsmouth, arrived and departed, as did also the West Virginia, from Morgantown.

The Exporter passed over the falls on Saturday.

Following boats were in port last evening: Messenger, Exchange, Mary Davage, Argosy, and Shamrock.

It is reported at New Orleans, that Capt. A. C. Goddin, late of the Wild Wagoner, and Capt. J. C. Haeberle, of the B. L. Hodge and Rapids, contemplate building new boats.

The Ironsides departed for St. Louis yesterday with a tow of eight barges and two fuel boats. She has a valuable cargo, consisting mainly of Pittsburgh manufactures.

The Brill, Capt. M. A. Cox, is announced to take her departure for Nashville to-day.

—The Louisville local Inspectors, after summing up the evidence, announce their decision in the Garrett and Falls City collision as follows:

"1. For non-attention to duty as master, being away from his station at the time of an emergency;

"2. For interfering with pilots' duties in the pilot house;

"3. For failure to heed the signal of a vessel in distress, and rendering her and all those on board of her all the assistance in his power when human lives were at stake, even at the sacrifice of personal and other property;

"4. For failure to see that the proper signal lights were in position and in good order at the time of the collision, the master of the steamer J. W. Garrett has rendered himself culpably liable, and is entitled to the severest reprimand. We do, therefore, revoke his license as master, and consider him disqualified to fill any position of a responsible nature on Western and Southern steamboats from this date.

"We do, also, for having utterly failed to use all proper endeavors to get clear of the steamer Falls City, having given the pilot of that boat to understand, by replying to her signal for passing, that the same was understood, and for allowing other persons than himself to have anything to do with the signals to the engine room while on watch and in the pilot house of the J. W. Garrett, revoke the license of Alexander Boss as pilot of river steamers from this date."

—St. Louis special to the Cincinnati Commercial says: The Oceanus, which blew up to-day at Brooks' Point, was a stern-wheel boat, measuring 565 tuns. She was 176 feet long by 41 feet beam, and 6 feet depth to hold. She was built at Pittsburgh in 1870, and was owned by Robt. W. Franklin; trustee of Mrs. Rebecca Reader, one-quarter; Carter & Conn, three-eighths; Thos. W. Rea, one fourth, and Henry A. Dorman, of Steubenville, Ohio, one eighth. She was valued at $38,000. The news of this terrible disaster has cast a gloom over the whole city, and crowds are rushing up and down the levee eagerly inquiring the news. Capt. Reader and Clerk Worsham lived here, and leave large families; also the steward and one of the engineers and pilots resided here, and leave families.

—The Great Republic has her pilot house provided with a novel and very useful invention, patented by Mr. A. R. Harris, an old pilot, in June of last year, which indicates at all times exactly what each engine is doing, and must be of great assistance to the pilot, especially upon a boat which does not escape out. A telegraph wire runs from the cam-rod of each engine, connecting with a battery which is attached to the indicator in the pilot house. A small hand tells which way the engine is moving, and a large hand how many revolutions are being made.

—In the United States District Court of New Orleans, last Monday, in the case of the Merchants Mutual Insurance Company vs. steamer Sabine and owners, it was ordered that the judgment by default taken be made final, and that the mortgage of the intervenors, Vanmeler and Lebinay, be enforced, and that they recover from said steamboat and owners the sum of $1,800.

—The New Albany Ledger, of Wednesday, says: The value of the iron barge lost by the tow-boat Iron Mountain is $60,000. The iron can be recovered when the river falls. The license of Daniel McLaran, second engineer, was suspended yesterday for sixty days, by the United States Local Inspectors of Louisville, for intoxication and non-attention to duty.

—The miners at Sheridan, Pomeroy, and Wheeling are on a strike, consequently steamboatmen are compelled to procure coal either at Hanging Rock or Ashland. At Wheeling the manufacturers offered to comprise by an advance of one quarter of a cent, but the men refused to accept less than a half a cent on the bushel.

—The Vicksburg boats of the St. Louis & Memphis Packet Company have changed their trade mark from the white collar to a dial plate, representing the rising sun, hung between the chimneys.

—The Natchez has no idea of quitting the New Orleans and Vicksburg trade yet awhile. Notice of her intention is to be given two weeks before she quits.

—A suit against the owners of the Phil Sheridan is in progress at Milwaukee, and three citizens of St. Louis have gone there as witnesses in the case.

—The Kentucky river packet Blue Wing has laid up at Louisville on account of high water in Kentucky river.

—The Muskingum River is now higher than it has been for two years.

—The Warrior river is in good boating order from Tuscaloosa down.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

☞IMPORTANT NOTICE.

Drs. Jordan and Davieson,

Beg to inform their friends, patients and the public generally, that owing to their increase of practice they are compelled, reluctantly, to discontinue their branch office in this city, and in future are to be consulted only at their HEAD OFFICE, 1625 Filbert Street, Philadelphia.

Just published: PRACTICAL OBSERVATIONS ON NERVOUS DEBILITY AND PREMATURE DECAY, being a synopsis of Lectures delivered at the great Institute of Anatomy, 807 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, to which is added an important essay on MARRIAGE, the whole illustrated with numerous interesting cases from actual practice. This interesting work will be forwarded on receipt of 25 cents, stamps. Address DRS. JORDON & DAVIESON, 1625 Filbert street, Philadelphia.
All letters will receive immediate attention. Address 1625 FILBERT STREET, Philadelphia.

☞DR. A. SLEE, No. 264 PENN STREET.—Longer in the practice of Special and Chronic Diseases than any physician in the city so advertising. All forms of venereal diseases cured in the most thorough and satisfactory manner. Spermatorrhœa or nervous debility, producing blotches, debility, dizziness, nervousness, dimness of sight, noises in the head, indigestion, despondency, confusion of ideas, loss of memory, and which unfit the victim for business or marriage, and ultimately causing consumption and insanity, are permanently cured.
Long standing constitutional diseases skillfully treated, and the effects of mercury completely eradicated.
The Doctor gives particular attention to female complaints, Sterility, Amenorrhœa, Menorrhœa, Dysmenorrhœa, and all irregularities giving annoyance and trouble. A medical pamphlet is published in plain language on venereal diseases sent by mail for two stamps. Correspondence strictly confidential. Hours—9 A. M. to 8 P. M.; Sundays excepted. Pittsburgh Medical Institute, 276 Penn street. ja10:1d&W

☞JOB MOSES' SIR JAMES CLARKE'S FEMALE PILLS.—These invaluable Pills are unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous diseases to which the female constitution is subject. They moderate all excesses and remove all obstructions from whatever cause. To MARRIED LADIES they are particularly suited. They will in a short time bring on regularity, and although very powerful, contain nothing hurtful to the constitution. In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, Pains in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics and Whites, they will effect a cure when all other means have failed. The circulars around each package give full directions and advice, or will be sent free to all writing for them, sealed from observation.
SPECIAL NOTICE.—It is the fate of every valuable medicine to be COUNTERFEITED. Job Moses' Sir James Clarke's Female Pills are extensively COUNTERFEITED. The genuine have the name of "JOB MOSES" on each package. All others are worthless. Dishonest Druggists endeavor to sell the counterfeits to make greater profits.
N. B.—In all cases where the GENUINE cannot be obtained, One Dollar enclosed to the Sole Proprietor, JOB MOSES, 18 Cortland street, New York, will insure a bottle of the genuine, containing Fifty Pills, by return mail, SECURELY SEALED from any knowledge of its contents. ja4:v17-eow-W

☞PRIVATE DISEASES.—OFFICE 194 PENN STREET, next door to the St. Clair Hotel. For the cure of all diseases of a private nature in from two to four days, by an entirely new and safe treatment. Also seminal weakness, impotency, and all other diseases of the genital organs, and their prevention. A cure warranted, or money refunded. Has Diploma in the office, and is a regular physician of 20 years standing in this city, and has cured over 10,000 cases.
For circulars, etc. address DOCTOR W., 194 Penn street, Pittsburgh, Pa.
Office hours from 8 to 12 M., from 1 to 3, and 6 to 8 P. M.; Sundays excepted. fe27:115

☞BATCHELOR'S HAIR DYE.—THIS superb Hair Dye is the best in the world—perfectly harmless, reliable and instantaneous; no disappointment; no ridiculous tints or disagreeable odor. The genuine Wm. A. Batchelor's Hair Dye produces IMMEDIATELY a splendid Black or natural Brown, leaves the hair clean, soft and beautiful; does not contain a particle of lead or any other injurious compound. Sold by all druggists. Factory, 16 BOND STREET, New York. de2-127-MWF-T

☞ON MARRIAGE.—HAPPY RELIEF for Young Men from the effects of Errors and Abuses in early life. Manhood restored. Nervous debility cured. Impediments to marriage removed. New method of treatment. New and remarkable remedies. Books and Circulars sent free in sealed envelopes. Address HOWARD ASSOCIATION, No. 2 South Ninth street, Philadelphia, Pa. de23:h44

☞MANHOOD! WOMANHOOD! "Books for the Million!" Who may marry, who not, Why? Impediments, causes and cure. Every father, mother, young man and young woman should read them. 100 pages. Sent in SEALED ENVELOPE; 15 cents each; both for 25 cents.
Address DR. WHITTIER,

Jewish Synagogue.

Yesterday a new orthodox Jewish Synagogue, located in Dalzell's building, on Duquesne Way was dedicated with appropriate ceremonies. The sermon on the occasion was preached by the Rev. Dr. L. Meyer, of the Eighth street Temple, and addresses were made by Messrs. J. Pachter and — Hyams. An interesting feature of the occasion was the presentation of an elegant silver ornament for decorating the "Service of the Law,"—the address being made by Josiah Cohen, Esq., in behalf of the donor, Mr. E. De Roy.

The synagogue is a cosy little temple. The congregation is composed of about twenty-five members, all Hollanders, who adhere strictly to the formula of the Orthodox Jewish Liturgy, and enter their temple with the most auspicious auguries for future success.

We regret that an extraordinary press of other matter has crowded out a fuller report of the very interesting dedicatory exercises.

Almost Drowned.

Yesterday a little before noon a party of six men, who were indulging in a skiff ride on the Allegheny river, just above the Sharpsburg bridge, made a very narrow escape from drowning. They did not seem to be paying much attention to the direction their craft was taking, and ran foul of a sunken barge, near the bridge. The skiff was overturned and disappeared under the barge, and the men left to scramble out of fifteen or twenty feet of water as best they might. In this performance four of the number were successful, by laying hold of the side of the barge; the other two, however, would probably have drowned, had not timely assistance been rendered by officer Holmes, of Mayor Callow's force, and a number of other persons who were at the time crossing over the bridge at the time, and hastened to the rescue. One of the men was so far gone, when taken up on the end of the barge, that he fell in a second time, and when again rescued had to be rolled upon a barrel before he could be resuscitated.

Sanitary.

The Board of Health officially took possession of their new quarters, in Municipal Hall, on Saturday afternoon, on the occasion of their semi-monthly meeting.

There was a full attendance at the meeting, but nothing but routine business transacted.

Health-officer Gray presented his report, from which we extract the following: Number of nuisances abated, 106; small-pox cases reported, 26; sent to the hospital, 8; buried, 2; permits granted, 46. The number of births in February was 215, and for March the number of deaths was 182. The report of Meat-inspector Lindsay shows the following amount of stock to have been received at the East Liberty yards during the quarter ending March 31, 1872; number of cattle 48,031, hogs 248,058 and sheep 258,346, making a grand total of 554,435 head. The auditing committee, to which was referred the annual statement of the treasurer for 1871, reported it to be correct.

Several bills were presented and ordered to be paid.

Health Officer Gray was instructed to get a number of handbills printed, notifying persons to clean up their yards, alleys, &c.; also to make inquiry into the report now prevailing in relation to the authorities of Allegheny sending small-pox patients to this city. Adjourned.

Spring and Summer Dry Goods at Wholesale and Retail, at McKee, Murphy & Co.'s, No. 59 Market Street.

We direct the attention of our readers to the advertisement which appears in another column of the old established, prosperous and well conducted wholesale and retail dry goods house of Messrs. McKee, Murphy & Co., No. 59 Market street. Anticipating an unusually heavy spring trade, the firm have prepared for its transaction by supplying themselves from the very best importing houses of the metropolitan cities, with one of the largest and most judiciously selected stock of general dry goods ever opened in this city, embracing as it does, all the latest styles, patterns and novelties in dress and house-keeping goods. Country merchants, dealers and all others who buy to sell again, will find that they can nowhere else deal to better advantage, or secure a greater and wider range of goods from which to make appropriate selections. The same great advantages are offered to retail patrons, and lady readers cannot fail to be satisfied with the general variety of goods presented for their inspection at the most reasonable and inviting prices. Altogether the wholesale and retail departments of the dry goods house of Messrs. McKee, Murphy & Co. are unusually attractive this season and cannot fail to draw a large share of discriminating patronage.

Not an Elopement.

The other evening as our young and chivalrous friend Mr. Berney Aron was musingly walking along an aristocratic thoroughfare in Allegheny, he was suddenly halted by a maiden as fair as Juliet herself, who from the second story window of a palatial residence called him to hear her tale of woe. He could not resist the dictates of gallantry, so he listened, and the sorrowing lass told how she had had a lover, poor, but honest, how her wealthy parents objected to her receiving the attention of the young man, and how in punishment for her disobedience in in holding clandestine meetings with her lover she was held a prisoner on bread on water. She pleaded to be delivered so that she could fly to the object of her affections and be honorably married to him. Berney is ready witted and quick to act and he is not the man to be appealed to in vain by a pretty girl for assistance. He at once hied away to a carpenter shop and procured a ladder, down which came the maiden to earth and liberty, but the appearance of the father just at this juncture took considerable of the romance out of the affair, for he recaptured the girl and was going to shoot Mr. Aron for his part in the business. The latter explained that he was not the lover under bans, had no idea of an elopement and in fact had never seen the old man's daughter previous to the time she had signaled him to the window—and he was permitted to depart to contemplate the miseries of the weaker sex. The story gave rise to the rumor in the fashionable circles in Allegheny of the attempted elopement of the heroine of the story, who, for aught we know is pining herself away on bread and water, yet as a prisoner for the sake of love, in her father's house.

BREVITIES.

THE nail feeders still hold out on their strike.

THE new City Hall will be formally opened early in May.

THERE will be no banquet at the formal opening of the Municipal Hall.

COUNCILS hold a private meeting to-day to talk over matters in the City Engineer's Department.

THE Court at Carlisle has set apart the 20th of this month for hearing the argument upon the motion for a new trial in the case of Dr. Schœppe.

OFFICER TETLEY found a box of blacksmith's tools secreted under a pile of boards on Duquesne Way. They are now at the Allegheny Wharfmaster's office.

THE congregations of the First and Second Presbyterian Churches held a union service at the latter last evening. The Rev. Dr. Conklin, of New York preached the sermon.

PERSONS desiring to procure a pleasant residence a short distance from the city and convenient to a railroad station, should read the advertisement of a house to let at Glendale.

MR. JOHN MURDOCH, Jr., and lady leave on a four months' trip to the old country on Saturday the 20th inst. We wish them a speedy voyage, a pleasant visit, and a safe return to their genial home Squirrel Hill.

WE have received from Mr. Doebler, at J. W. Pittock & Co.'s, copies of Le Mode Illustre and L'Univers Illustre, full of fine engravings and interesting reading matter. Also that illustrated magazine for children, The Chatterbox, for April.

YESTERDAY was the communial occasion in the Hazlewood Presbyterian church, Rev. J. S. Stuchell, pastor, which was signalized by the admission of twenty-six new members into the church. The services were of an interesting and memorable character.

THE Sharpsburg hook and ladder company, recently organized, are shortly to have a local habitation as well as a name. Their house is going up rapidly, under direction of the contractors, Messrs. Clowe & McClain. Their reel and hose have arrived in the city from the East, and the ladders are expected soon.

THOSE who took any note of the beautiful, balmy and bright weather yesterday, with not a cloud obscuring the sky, will be more readily convinced hereafter that the man who for so many years has been trying to libel Easter Sunday rains as precursors of seven successive wet-weather Sabbaths, is a gross "fraud."

IT is the proper time for the Board of Health of Pittsburgh, and Sanitary Committee to manifest a goodly portion of the energy they propose to expend this year, to place the cities in proper sanitary condition before warm weather sets in. This "locking the stable door after the horse is gone," is a policy that has but few points to recommend it.

YESTERDAY was a lively day on the Miller pavement, between "the forks" and Point Breeze. In order to check the fast driving that is so much indulged in there on Sabbath, Mayor Blackmore detailed detective Cupples, and officers Trimble, Dewey Miller and Kirk. They succeeded in arresting but one party, but detective Cupples procured the names of some fifteen or twenty more, against whom informations will probably be made to-day.

A YOUNG MAN named Kurtz, employed in the capacity of messenger in the freight department of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway, made a very narrow escape from fatal injury on Saturday. A freight train had stopped on the track, and extended across Penn street, and the young man, desiring to pass to the opposite of the road from the Company's offices, attempted to pass through the train. Climbing up to the platform on the end of one of the cars, he was just about passing over the "bumpers," when the train commenced backing, and his foot and ankle was caught by the link, and held between the bumpers. Young Kurtz uttered a sharp cry, which was heard by the engineer, who reversing the engine, immediately, probably in that way saved him from instant death, as he was just about to fall between the cars. As soon as the train was loosened up, the young man was extricated from his perilous situation, and conveyed, in a carriage to his home in Allegheny, where Doctor Rankin dressed his injured member. The foot was badly crushed, and one of the ankle bones broken.

A FIRE RECORD.

Lively Times for the Department—Ten Fires in Thirty-six Hours.

It would seem that the city, during the past two days, has made a wonderful escape from conflagration, considering the number which extinguished in their incipiency, and the very high wind which prevailed during the whole of Saturday and a part of yesterday. The high winds, and the number of alarms which were struck during Saturday afternoon and night, kept some of our people in a fever of excited apprehension; but, thanks in a great measure to the efficiency of our fire department, we have no very disastrous results to record.

The first alarm which we have to mention came from box 6, at 4:36 Saturday afternoon, and was occasioned by the discovery of flames issuing from the roof of the house, No. 21 Second avenue, owned and occupied by Mr. John Owens. The roof had taken fire from sparks proceeding from Hartupee's machine works, near by. The flames speedily succumbed to the prompt effort of the firemen towards extinguishment, and but little loss was sustained.

A few minutes afterward, and whilst the engines were still on the ground, the roof of a house on the opposite side of the street, occupied by Mr. R. Gardner, was discovered to be on fire, but this, too, was extinguised in about as short order as the one which had preceeded it.

But now, at fifteen minutes before five o'clock, just nine minutes after the first alarm, again did the "big" bell peal forth its alarming notes, this time striking the number 46. This time the occasion was a slight fire in the roof of J. H. Burland's hat store, corner of Penn and Fifteenth streets. A defective flue was the cause, and the loss resulting was but slight.

About the same time a slight fire occurred in Hammer's furniture factory, in Strawberry alley, near Cherry, but the flames were extinguished with a few buckets of water, and no alarm was struck.

The next alarm was from box 37, about two o'clock yesterday morning. A board pile at the steel works near the corner of Try street and Second avenue, had taken fire. The loss was immaterial.

At half past four in the morning, a policeman passing McIntyre's drug store, at the corner of Fifth avenue and Pride street, he discovered fire breaking out in the rear of the room. The officer struck an alarm from box 52, and the department responding, went into service, and saved the establishment, with some difficulty, after the destruction of property, by fire and water, to the value perhaps of $509. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Later in the morning a slight fire occurred on the roof of a house on Third avenue, between Market and Ferry streets, but the loss from this was very slight.

Allegheny was somewhat dilatory on Saturday in furnishing her quota to this fire record, but came up with some excitement yesterday.

The firemen were first called out at half-past one o'clock by an alarm from Box 67, at the Ardesco oil works, Wood's Run, and upon proceeding to the place found that through the carelessness of the occupants in one of Lewis, Oliver & Phillips' mill hands' houses, the floor in one of them had caught fire from a live coal which rolled out from the grate and set fire to the wood. It was extinguished after a portion of the floor had been destroyed.

The second fire occurred at seven o'clock, when the firemen were called to Box 25. They discovered that by some accident a mattrass in the house occupied by Alderman Ballie, corner Isabella Court and Robinson street, had caught fire. There was no conflagration, but the mattrass was consumed.

While the firemen were "reeling up" at this fire, they were again startled by an alarm from box 51, corner North and Washington streets, Fourth ward. Investigation proved this to be a false alarm. The firemen were not profuse in profanity, however, but it was not the spirit of serenity which rested upon their brows as they turned homeward.

MUNICIPAL HALL OPENING.

A Two Days' Jubilee Proposed, but no "Feed."

The Committee appointed by the Presidents of Councils, three weeks since, to make arrangements for the formal opening of the new City Hall, held a meeting Saturday afternoon, at which the subject was pretty thoroughly canvassed, and the following skeleton of a programme finally decided upon:

Early in May (it being impossible to fix upon the exact time, owing to the present unfinished state of the building) the magnificent structure, which is at once an ornament to the city and a credit to the munificence of our people, as well as to the Commission under whose direction it has been reared—will be thrown open to the public, and everybody invited to come forward and inspect. This is to be an exhibition for the benefit of the people, and it is hoped all who can possibly do so, will avail themselves of it.

The immense building will be thrown open during those two days, from ground floor to cupola, all the various chambers, offices, galleries and baleonies having been so arranged with regard to their furnishment and surroundings as to display their beauties and utility to the best possible advantage. Of course during the two evenings of the jubilee the building will be brilliantly illuminated in all its parts, which will give it an appearance of almost regal splendor.

A band of music will be in attendance during the days as well as the evenings, to add its charm to the grand occasion. Polite and accommodating ushers will also be at the service of visitors, and every facility afforded the people of making a thorough inspection of the building.

On the evening probably of the second day the formal transfer of the Hall from the Commissioners to the City Councils, will take place, at which time some speeches will be made, congratulations extended and sentiments interchanged. But there will be no banquet, and in deciding this point the Committee have shown rare good judgment, and consulted not only their own sense of propriety, but also the wishes of the people. Moreover, the entire expense of the opening is to be borne by members of Councils, so that if those having the matter in charge should be somewhat lavish in their disbursements the people will have no cause to complain.

At the meeting of the committee on Saturday afternoon a sub-committee, consisting of Messrs. R. H. Smith, J. M. Gazzam and Dr. Arthurs, was appointed to fix the time and arrange the details of the programme. A better seclection could scarcely have been made, and the affair will, we have not the shadow of a doubt, pass off pleasantly to all concerned.

Public Entertainments.

PITTSBURGH OPERA HOUSE.—Our citizens, who admire and patronize the strictly legitimate drama, have had no cause of complaint that Messrs. Ellsler and Gotthold have not consulted their tastes and wishes, since these gentlemen have secured the management of the two Opera houses. Mrs. D. P. Bowers, undisputably one of the greatest artists on the stage, has just closed a two weeks' engagement, which was highly successful financially, and eminently satisfactory to the amusement loving portion of our community. And now the ever popular comedy company of Jane Coombs has been engaged, and will give us a series of those most excellent plays which make up Miss Coombs' repertoire, and which are always so acceptable to our people. The engagement will be opened to-night with "London Assurance."

PITTSBURGH ACADEMY OF ART AND DESIGN.—There is perhaps no other season in the year when true art, as displayed in landscape painting and other sketches from nature, is appreciated as it is in the springtime. It is then that our finer sensibilities are aroused as it were to newness of life, and we seem to see fresh beauties in everything that we behold. We experience something like an awakening from a lethargy that had held our natures under its control during the months of winter; and in sympathy with nature senses, feelings, sentiments and susceptibilities all seem to have undergone a change for the better during the season that the strange spell had been upon us. The Art Association seem to have recognized this peculiarity of our nature when they arranged to give us a spring exhibition of works of art.

THEODORE THOMAS CONCERTS.—It needs but the announcement of the fact that this unequaled concert organization, which consists of sixty performers, will give a series of their matchless entertainments, to fill Library Hall with admiring audiences. There are few entertainments given in this city so universally popular—and worthily so—as those given by the Thomas Orchestra. We therefore derive pleasure from informing our readers that the organization referred to will give two concerts at Library Hall, on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, April 24th and 25th. Miss Marie Krebs, the brilliant young pianist, will at that time make her last appearance previous to her departure for Europe. The sale of reserved seats will begin on Friday morning next, at Kleber's music store, Wood street.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—Mrs. Richings-Bernard closed a successful engagement at this handsome and popular theatre on Saturday evening. This week Manager Beamer promises a continuation of the popular entertainments which have been so auspiciously begun, the Academy will doubtless be a place of pretty general resort. Johnny Allen, Little Mac and Miss Alice Harrison, supported by a talented dramatic company, have been engaged, and will make their first appearance to-night in the amusing drama of "Schneider."

FIFTH AVENUE OPERA HOUSE.—This centrally located and popular place of amusement will be thrown open again this week. This evening Mr. E. D. Davies, the wonderful ventriloquist, with a brilliant comedy company, will begin an engagement of six night performances and one matinee. The entertainment will doubtless draw largely.

MASONIC HALL.—A brilliant and attractive entertainment is promised at Masonic Hall this week. The renowned "Fakir of Ava" the "Monarch of Ventriloquists and Illusionists," will begin a short season this evening. Each evening a large number of costly presents will be given away.

Trunks! Trunks.

As everybody and everybody's wife and daughters will shortly journey to some favorite summer resort at the sea-side or in the mountains or seek pleasure in foreign lands, and as all these will require trunks, valises and carpet-bags, they must, one and all, take it kindly that we remind them of the great trunk emporium of Joseph Leibler, at No. 104 Wood street. For years past Leibler has distinguished himself as a trunk manufacturer and vender. He seems to have a genius for getting them up to suit every taste and to combine all manner of conveniences, and by fixing his prices very low he has secured a very extensive trade. His establishment was never so well provided as now; he enters on a season of active sales with an unusual stock and almost an endless variety. So, good reader, if you want a trunk, in any of its shapes or sizes, call on Leibler.

The great advantage of the American Button and Overseaming Sewing Machine, is the fact that it will work button-holes, which is a quality not possessed by other machines. The agency for the American is on Liberty street, two doors from Market.

THE COURTS.

Saturday's Proceedings.

CRIMINAL COURT—JUDGE COLLIER.

P. Wagner, of the Sixth ward, Allegheny, was fined $30 in three cases for selling to minors, and ordered to pay the costs in nine other cases.

Frank Limegroser was fined $30 in three cases, $35 in a fourth, and the costs in three others, for selling to minors.

Anthony Clark was ordered to pay $90 and costs in three cases, and the costs in two others.

Richard Manuel was assessed $60 in three cases, $5 in one other, and the costs in two others.

Jacob Douch was sentenced to pay $40 in two cases, $30 in one, and the costs in two others.

Joseph Hart, for selling on Sunday, was fined $40 in two cases, and sentenced twenty days in jail.

Thomas Smith, of Temperanceville, for selling on Sunday, was fined $30 and sentenced to jail 15 days.

R. D. Pierce, convicted of false pretenses, was sentenced six months to the Work House on the case tried, and eight months on three other indictments to which he plead guily.

Peter Corey, who plead guiley to felonious assault and battery in stabbing Frank J. Holtzman, was fined $50 and sentenced to three years imprisonment in the Penitentiary.

Martin Burke, against whom there were two indictments for larceny, was sentenced twenty-four hours on one and one year in the penitentiary on the other.

Casper Philbert, indicted for larceny, was sentenced four months to the Workhouse.

Harry Craham, convicted of larceny on oath of Frank Lutz, was ordered to twenty days' imprisonment in jail.

John Martin received a sentence of six months in jail for larceny.

William J. Dickson on an indictment for a similar offence was sent to Claremont for three months.

Peter Lohr and August Eichleman, convicted of assault and battery, were fined $5,00 and costs each.

John Stax, Nathan Gibbon and John Moore, police officers, convicted of assault and battery, on oath of Jerry Holland, were fined five dollars and costs each.

COMMON PLEAS—JUDGES STOWE AND STERRETT.

In this Court Judge Stowe delivered a verbal opinion refusing a new trial in the case of Owston & Sowers vs. the Allegheny Valley Railroad Company, the motion for which was argued about two weeks since. Judge Stowe intimated then that unless there was something new shown he would not interfere with the verdict, which was $27,000, and the decision is in accordance with the then expressed determination. The case will no doubt be carried to the Supreme Court.

The case of John W. Fruet, et al., indicted for conspiracy, in the removal of whisky from a bonded warehouse in Mercer county, and the subsequent burning of the building to cover the evidence of the guilt and to recover an insurance policy held by the Allemania Company of this city is on trial.

Percival Bast was convicted of selling unstamped tobacco.

$23,000 IN PREMIUMS.

The Summer Meeting at Oakland Park—Four Days' Trotting in July—Some of the Finest Stock in the Country to Go.

The Summer meeting at Oakland Park promises to far excel any that have hitherto taken place. The time will extend over four days, and the premiums offered are such as will insure our having some of the best trotters in the country in attendance. We are not at liberty at this writing to announce positively what horses will be on hand, but will do so at another time, and after the preliminary negotiations are in such a shape as to make it certain those we name will be sure to be there. The track is being put in a thorough condition, and everything will be in tip-top order for the grand races of the year. Major Van Voorhis will have nothing to do with the meeting, he having other business on hand which will occupy his whole attention this year. He has leased the track for the occasion to James Wiley, who is represented as a fair and square man, whom horsemen may place the utmost confidence in.

The meeting will last four days, commencing Tuesday, July 23, and the following programme will be observed:

FIRST DAY.

Purse No. 1, for horses that have no record below three minutes, $1,000.

Purse No. 2, free to all horses, $1,000.

SECOND DAY.

Purse No. 3, for horses that have no record below 2:40, $2,000.

Purse No. 4, free for all that have no record under 2:30, $4,000.

THIRD DAY.

Purse No. 5, free for all that have no record below 2:25, $5,000.

Purse No. 6, free for all that have no record under 2:22, $6,000.

FOURTH DAY.

Purse No. 7, free for all, $3,000.

Purse No. 8, free for all and gait as they please, bar running and distance, $1,000.

All the above will be mile heats, three in five to harness, and to rule, except No. 8, and will be conducted under the rules of the National association. The entrance will be ten per cent. of the purse, and will close July 10, at nine o'clock P. M. All communications should be addressed to James Wiley, Secretary, Pittsburgh.

BONDS STOLEN.

A Desk Broken Open and Robbed of Valuable Papers.

One day last week, a bold burglar entered the residence of Mr. John Chambers, at Pleasant Unity, Westmoreland county, and ransacked the house. In the course of his operations he came across a secretary which he broke open and robbed of valuable papers, among them several U. S. coupon bonds of 1862. The bonds amounted to $650, as follows: one for $500, No. 6,366, letter D, third series; one for $100, 11,941, third series; one for $50, No. 7,042.

There is thus far no clue to the thief, although suspicions rest upon a certain party. Mr. Chambers offers a reward of $50 for the recovery of the bonds, and will add $25 to that amount for the thief and bonds.

The O'Hara Park.

MESSRS. EDITORS GAZETTE: In your paper of to-day is an article by N. B. Hatch, Esq., which is rather amusing, and if not too trifling, might be looked upon as a good joke. He says if Councils call the Park the "General O'Hara Park," and the adjoining land holders give one-half of their land, at "the same price and terms" that Mr. Schenley would give 285 acres, &c., for a park. Now Mr. Hatch knows well that the 285 acres specified is the refuse of the tract; that one-third of it is ravine, and steep banks, fit for nothing but pleasure grounds; and he knows well that the fifty acres owned by J. R. and A. Murdoch have been at great expense underdrained, subsoiled and manured, and some forty acres of it in nursery; and he knows that one acre of it is worth three of the Schenley property for their purposes; and he knows that "the disturbance," which I believe is the technical term for having to find other ground for their nursery, to improve it, and move off all their young trees of it, with expense, loss by transplanting, &c., would be a loss to them equal in value to twenty-five acres of some of the Schenley property. Mr. Hatch has a right, and it is his duty to do his best for his employer, but he has no right to be spiteful or ugly about any other person's property. The Murdoch's don't care a copper about a park personally, but they do about their nursery. As Mr. Hatch claims all the honor by asking its name, he should be too proud to ask others to share the expense. M.

To the Colored People of Allegheny County.

The Executive Committee of 1870, respectively invites you to assemble in mass meeting at Avery College Lecture room in Allegheny city, this (Monday) evening, April 15th, at 7 o'clock.

The objects of the meeting are to name a day for the general celebration of the XVth amendment in May, and to form a County Executive Committee, which shall be authorized to form local political clubs throughout the county, and also to make arrangements for a grand celebration of our day of jubilee.

Babcock Engine in Park & Co.'s Copper Mill.

A small fire broke out in the upper part of Park & Co.'s Copper Mill, on Saturday forenoon, and was progressing finely when discovered, but the Babcock self-acting engine was at once brought into use, and the fire quenched instantly. Shortly after, another fire broke out in the same mill, but in another part and quite as inaccessible, which the Babcock engine again extinguished promptly. As the wind blew a gale, had it not been for the quick working of the engine, a disastrous fire would have been the result. As it was, there is no loss to report and no claim on the underwriters.

MONTHLY PETROLEUM REPORT.

Production—Development—Number of the New Wells Drilled—Stock of Petroleum in the Region—The Price, &c., &c.

The Titusville Herald reports as follows, for the month ending March 31st, 1872: Our report for the month shows a large decrease in the daily production. This is due both to the efforts to defeat the South Improvement Company, which were manifested in partially shutting down pumping wells, and also to the unusually severe weather affecting the wells materially. The number of wells completed during the month was much smaller than in February, so that there was nothing to offset the falling off of the production.

Parker's was the only district where there was any increase. Church Run fell off 175 barrels daily, and Colorado over 100. In the Hickory district the decrease reached 300 barrels per day. Down the river, north of Parker's there was a general decrease, and in one tract near Foster farm it amounted to nearly 200 barrels. Lower Cherry Run shows over 150 barrels less than the daily production of the previous month, and there was also a considerable loss at East Sandy, Milton farm and Reno. The reports from Cherry Tree Run, Pithole, Dawson Run, Shamburg, Pleasantville, and from the farms in the vicinity of Petroleum Centre, the Columbia, Blood and Tarr farms, all show a decrease of from five to ninety barrels. At Armstrong Run and Brady's Bend there was a falling off of about fifteen barrels.

The decrease in the production may be larger than has been generally expected, but a careful examination of the reports from the different farms and districts, and a fair estimate of the few from which reports could not be got, fully warrant our present figures.

The following table shows the production for March:

		BLS.
Total shipment of crude for Feb., 1872, of bbls of 45 gallons each		264,692
Add to reduce to bbls of 43 gallons each		12,311
Total shipment of bbls of 43 gallons each		277,003
Stock on hand March 1st	806,548
Stock on hand April 1st	1,041,889
Add increase on April 1st		235,341
Total production during March		512,344
Average per day in March, 1872, for 31 days		16,527
Average per day in March, 1871		13,457
Daily increase in March, 1872, over March, 1872		30.70

DEVELOPMENT.

By far the largest development was at Parker's Landing and vicinity—233 wells were drilling there, whilst 68 were reported from all other points. Dawson's Run shows 19 wells, which is the next largest number. Foster and Franklin come next.

From the depressed state of the market and the large stock on hand, joined to the excitement prevailing in the region, there has been but little encouragement to press development anywhere during the last sixty days, which accounts for a meager report on this point. There are now 301 wells driling.

THE STOCK.

As was expected there was a very large increase in stock during March. The shipments from all points were very light, bearing nearly whole production to accumulate.

The total stock April 1st was 1,040,898 barrels, against 806,548 barrels on March 1st, showing an increase during the month of 235,350 barrels.

THE SHIPMENTS.

Since February, 1869, there has been no month in which the shipment has been so small as during the last month. The quantity of refined oil shipped was also very light, being only about 24,500 barrels. The total shipment of crude equivalent was 264,692 barrels of 45 gallons each. Of this 16,700 barrels went to Cleveland and 39,000 barrels to Pittsburgh.

THE PRICE.

The price during the month was very low. The market on the Upper Creek opened at $3,50 and closed at $3,52½. On the lower road the market on the 1st was $3,52½ and on the last day closed at the same figure as on the Upper Creek. There was some fluctuation on both roads, but the general price showed a depressed condition of things.

The Titusville Courier also presents its report for March as follows: Total stock April 1st, 942,350 barrels; increase in total stock, 215,092 barrels; daily average production, 16,024 barrels; decrease in daily average, 1,324 barrels; number of wells being drilled, 298.

POLICE NOTES.

Brief Mention of Criminalities.

Bowers, the young incorrigible of whom mention was made Saturday, was taken to the House of Refuge by Detective Cupples.

Kuntzler McCormick, Thomas Jenkins and Henry Todd a few days since entered the glass house of Bakewell, Pears & Co., after having been discharged by the firm, and interfered with the operatives to such an extent that Mr. Saners, one of the overseers, felt called upon to eject them, which he did. That night the three young men named kept a watch for Saners, at a point which he was expected to pass, and when he came along, fired three shots from a revolver at him. This is the substance of the allegations made before Justice Krehan, who took Saners' information, charging the parties with felonious assault and battery. They were arrested and brought before the magistrate Saturday morning, and held in bail for a further hearing.

Late last evening James Campbell came to Alderman O'Donnell and told him he wished to make an information against a man named Burns, charging him with aggravated assault and battery. The man had his head bandaged, and when the 'Squire examined it he found an ugly gash over the left ear, from which blood was flowing profusely. Campbell stated that he and the accused boarded at the same house on Pike street, in the Ninth ward, and a little earlier in the evening, while the parties were yet at the supper table, a dispute arose which waxed somewhat. Burns, taking offence at something which the deponent had said, threw a tumbler across the table and struck him, inflicting the injuries referred to. A warrant for the arrest of Burns was issued.

Forty-three common cases were disposed of by Mayor Brush yesterday morning, the most serious of which was that of Henry McClosky, who was sentenced to the Work House for thirty days for drunkenness and vagrancy.

The usual number of Sabbath evening drunks were noticeable on the street last evening.

Peter Snyder and a number of other young bloods residing at the Point, became engaged in a row on Saturday evening, at the corner of Market street and Fourth avenue, a couple officers appeared on the scene, and Pete was arrested as the ring leader of the party. Three other members of the crowd interfered however, and rescued their friend, but were themselves arrested, and yesterday morning paid a fine of five dollars and costs each.

James Morrison met an officer on the street Saturday evening, and challenged him to take off his coat and fight. The officer, instead of accepting the challenge, invited the fellow to take a walk with him, and the result was the city treasury was enriched to the amount of $8.25.

John Donehue was arrested Saturday evening for drunkenness and disorderly conduct, and left $5 with Captain McGinty for his appearance. He forfeited the "V," but was brought in again last evening on a charge similar to that pending against him.

John Maloy yesterday enjoyed a horse and buggy for the purpose of taking a ride on the "Miller" pavement. On the road he stopped and left his horse standing unhitched for a few minutes, and during his temporary absence a young man named White bethought him to take a drive at the expense of Maloy. The latter followed White to the city, and, overtaking him on Webster avenue, pulled him out of the vehicle, and commenced the administering of what he doubtless deemed a merited castigation. Officers Silvus and Fowler interfered and took both to the Central Station-house. Maloy left $10 for his appearance, and White was locked up.

Mrs. Herman, a resident of First street, charges her husband, Patrick Herman, with disorderly conduct, in beating her and pulling her hair unmercifully. Mayor Blackmore issued a warrant for Patrick.

May Jackson went to the Work House on Saturday, on a commitment from Justice Barker, of South Pittsburgh.

Peter Gibbons was given a furlough of twenty days. He will while away his leave of absence at Claremont.

An uninterrupted cock fight took place on Fifth avenue on Friday night.

There is another lull in business at the Mayor's office.

Two of the lieutenants on Mayor Blackmore's police force are about to resign.

Mayor Callow had five common cases before him yesterday.

Peter Moran was levied $25 and costs by Mayor Callow yesterday for abusing his wife. In default he went to the Work House for thirty days.

Thomas Gist was amusing himself in the park yesterday afternoon, by drilling holes in the concrete pavement with his heels. He paid $5 for the sport.

The great advantage of the American Button and Overseaming Sewing Machine is the fact that it will work button holes, which is a quality not possessed by other machines. The agency for the American is on Liberty street, two doors from Market.

How It Beats Them!

The returns of sales of the different sewing machines, during the year 1871, show the Singer machine to be by far the most popular of all in the market, the number sold being 181,260, out of a total of 610,194 of twenty-five different patterns. These returns show that the Singer Manufacturing Company sold, during last year, as many machines as the Grover & Baker, Weed, Elias Howe, Florence, Eliptic and Empire all put together. This is a wonderful exhibit. This preference for the Singer Machine is due to its intrinsic superiority, and it seems likely to be maintained against all competition.—New York Sun.

IF charcoal is taken into the stomach in a fresh condition, it tends to correct acidity, and to vitalize and invigorate, although scientists may be puzzled to explain exactly why. The most plausible theory is that it promotes slow combustion, making the partially decayed matter burn up and leave nothing but fresh. If a piece of meat is packed in fresh charcoal, and occasionally repacked, it will be gone at last, but it will remain fresh. Charcoal will even restore meat partially decayed. Meat that has been overlooked until it is quite offensive, by washing and packed in charcoal is restored. Used in the mouth some authors say it tends to prevent the decay of the teeth. A considerable large piece, held in the mouth once in a few days or even weeks, will keep the breath sweet, and tend to preserve the teeth.

Democrats and Republicans have now fairly entered upon the campaign, and the political difference between them is readily distinguished, but there is no difference with them in acknowledging that Urling, Follansbee & Co.'s, southwest corner of Wood street and Fifth avenue, is the place to find ready-made gentlemen's suits, which are up to the times, in style, quality, fashion and price.

A MYSTERY.

A Woman Found in Bed with Her Throat Cut—Her Husband Suspected of Committing the Deed—Investigation and Exoneration of the Husband—The Woman Lying in a Precarious State.

A strange affair was that which occurred at East Liberty on Friday night, which may yet result fatally to a woman named Mrs. Theresa Weise. About eleven o'clock the officer on duty at East Liberty was called to the house of a butcher named Weise, living on Broad street, to take charge of Mrs. Weise, who, it was discovered, had been probably fatally injured. Dr. Bese, who had been previously in attendance, stated that when he had reached the house there was no one in the room but Mrs. Weise. She was lying on the bed, with a terrible gash on the front part of her throat, and also a stab on the back of the neck. The woman was unable to speak on account of paralysis, but in reply to inquiries as to whether she had inflicted the injuries, pointed to the door leading to the yard, and as to the weapon with which the deed had been done, directed his attention to an object lying in a corner of the room. The object proved to be an old razor, which was covered with blood. The husband, Jacob Weise, was arrested, and held for a hearing, which took place Saturday afternoon, before Deputy Mayor Phillips.

The first witness called was Dr. Bese, who testified that he was called to attend the wounded woman; on entering the room found the razor with which the act had been committed under the bed; asked her in German who did it; she replied that her husband had; just then the police came into the room, when Weise asked her if he had cut her; she answered then that he had not, and subsequently stated that she had done it herself; asked her if she remembered fighting with her husband on the previous evening; she said yes, and that he had kicked her out of bed and struck her with his fist; he was in the room when she cut herself; she was lying on the floor when she did it; she struggled against being bandaged; tried to keep her quiet, but she tore off the bandages and appeared to want to die.

During the afternoon the deputy mayor called at Weise house and the woman being composed, he took her deposition as follows:

City of Pittsburgh SS.—Personally appeared before me the subscriber, Moses Phillips, one of the aldermen of the said district, Theresa Weise, who being duly sworn according to law, doth depose and say, that being of sound mind and knowing my accountability to my God, I make this, as I believe, my last statement respecting this terrible calamity which has befallen me, and I further state that I inflicted the wounds with my right hand, cutting first right and then left; then I reached back and cut as hard as I could, making the wounds back of my neck. And further deponent saith not. Sworn, &c., &c.

Mrs. Weise's statements, it will be seen were very contradictory, but upon the last one the prisoner was discharged.

Last evening at half-past seven o'clock the woman was still alive, but in a very critical condition.

The Engineership.

EDITORS GAZETTE: In the election of City Engineer, which in all probability will take place to-day, we all as citizens, have a deep interest, and we look to our representatives in Council to not only choose a man of experience and ability, but we want a man who will have the interests of our city at heart. And who will take a deeper interest in her welfare than those who have been citizens during a great part of their lives, and look to her for all the rights of citizenship? And where there is at least equal merit on both sides of the case why should not our positions of trust be filled by persons from among ourselves, and not those who have no real interest in our welfare? We see many reasons why our Engineer should be chosen from among those who have a thorough knowledge of the topography and geography of our city, and it requires no little time to acquire this. We have men among us who have acquired this knowledge, and they are thoroughly awake to the importance of having a thorough system in every department of the office. If there are candidates for the office who have a better record than some of our own engineers, then we might be inclined to accept them, but thus far the record does not show it. Because we can perform a multiplication, this does not prove that we can dive deep into the calculus, or if we can make a compilation in the form of a glowing report does not argue the possession of scientific ability, either innate or acquired. Our Councilmen are not men who will base their opinion on the glowing accounts of any aspirant through the press or otherwise, and therefore we hope they will consider well the claims of our own candidates. A CITIZEN.*

City Engineer.

EDITORS OF GAZETTE: There is a general wish expressed that Councils will observe great circumspection in the choice of a City Engineer to fill the existing vacancy; that they should make sure of getting a competent man, one who has practically demonstrated his fitness by work done in this or some other city. Pittsburgh, at this time and for years to come, needs not an apprentice or a man to whom it can only be said you think he will do or you suppose he will do, but one whose scientific attainments and thorough fitness have been illustrated by positive achievements; in other words, a man whom you know is capable and worthy. Let no mistake be made in this most important matter. It would be difficult to exaggerate the value of the interests involved in the choice which our City Councils are about to make. See to it, gentlemen; act wisely. Permit me, Messrs. Editors, to add this, by way of endorsement of your own timely and excellent remarks on this subject. CITIZEN.

From Prof. Doremus, New York.

COLLEGE OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK,
NEW YORK, August 1, 1871.

GENTLEMEN: The best conveyers of electricity are the metals, and of these next in rank to silver stands copper. It not only surpasses iron in this respect, but also in being less susceptible to attack by the gases and vapors of the atmosphere. Oxidation of the iron not only gradually corrodes it, but the compound thus formed destroys the metallic continuity where the pieces are joined—a most serious defect for a lightning rod, as it may, therefore, prove a source of, rather than a shield from danger, since it attracts the electricity and fails to deliver it freely. Iron has been coated with zinc or "galvanized" in hopes of preventing this disastrous result, but without success; for by the combined action of moisture and the various gases in the atmosphere, both metals are acted on.

A model lightning rod should have well-protected, non-oxidizable points, for receiving and discharging the electricity quietly; should expose a large conducting surface for speedily conveying the threatening fluid, without break or rupture, and should be in good contact with moist earth. These essentials are admirably accomplished in your points, in your twisted sheets of copper overlapping each other, and attached securely by copper wires. As electricity flows on the surface of conductors, your arrangement is better than if the same amount of mental was in the form of a solid rod of copper. The edges of the folded sheets and the ends of the copper wire also aid in discharging a part of the electricity laterally. Your insulated glass supports are simple and effective.

If this ingenious and truly scientific device is properly attached to the edifice to be protected, I consider it (the Munson Tubular Copper Lightning) the best safegard against injury by lightning I have ever examined.

RAILROAD ACCIDENTS.

Two Trains Wrecked and a Couple of Persons Injured.

On Saturday, a freight train, eastward bound, on the Panhandle Railroad, was thrown from the track, near Dennison, Ohio, by a large plank, which had, by some meaes, been placed across the rails. Several of the cars were badly wrecked, and the engineer, the conductor, a Mr. Worth, of this city, and the engineer, were seriously, though it is hoped not dangerously, injured. The trains on the road were all considerably delayed.

On Friday evening on the Connellsville Railroad, coming west, ran over a cow, and the engine with four cars were thrown from the track. The road was torn up for a considerable distance by the accident, and until Saturday the passenger trains were obliged to transfer their passengers. No person was injured physically by the accident.

Now is the time to purchase one of those neat and elegant road wagons, manufactured by Workman & Davis, which are just what is needed to "take a spin in" along the road, and breathe the fresh air. This firm has a full assortment of them at the ware-rooms Nos. 167, 169 and 171 Penn avenue.
